LET HARMONY TRIUMPH

Republicans Line Up and Vote Straight

THE PARTY'S FUTURE IS AT STAKE

Will the Republicans of Centre County Vote to Restore Harmony or Will They Vote to Continue Factional Strife.

UNITED EFFORT WILL WIN

The result of next Tuesday's election means much to the Republican party in Centre County. It will determine whether the party is to be united or remain divided against itself. It will seal the fate of the harmony movement. A better opportunity for getting together could not be had than that which circumstances and conditions have thrown in our way at this time. The amicable agreement of the party leaders to obliterate factionalism from the campaign this fall and unite on a strictly party ticket was a happy and propitious introduction of a project to conciliate hostile factions and combine their strength in a common cause.

The leaders were honest in their purpose when the "peace treaty" was signed, sealed and delivered and they have been, and are, working in concord for its success at the polls. It remains with the Republicans in the county to say whether the party shall dwell together in peace and unity or remain a disorganized political body bereft of power and influence, as a consequent result of factional disorders.

In Messrs. Allison and Thompson we have candidates who are honest and honorable, capable and efficient, and loyal and staunch in their allegiance to the Republican party. That they would serve, if elected, the interests of the county and the people with a conscientious regard for the needs of the former and the will of the latter, none can deny. We have, indeed, one of the best, if not the best, legislative tickets this fall we have ever nominated. The high character and exceptional ability of the candidates warrants this assertion. With Allison and Thompson in the legislature Centre County would have two able and faithful champions in her service.

Republicans of Centre County, do your duty. Stand fast together, and vote to a man for our ticket. If we are defeated next Tuesday and defeat bears the mark of the Republican political knife, it will be a serious disaster to the cause of Republicanism in Centre County. If our candidates receive the full strength of the Republican vote we will win; every indication points to victory. There must be no malcontents. There must be no stay-at-homes. There must be a concerted action and in a single direction—for the ticket, the whole ticket and nothing but the ticket. Republicans, line up and vote straight.

Allison and Thompson are Farmer's Sons and Farmer's Friends Political Carpet-baggers have a Shining Example in Bryan.

"What do Allison and Thompson care about the farmers? The one is a wealthy mill owner and the other a traveling salesman, whom some people call a political carpet bagger." Thus speaks the Democratic Watchman of the Republican candidates for the Legislature. Surely because Mr. Allison is a "wealth mill owner" and Mr. Thompson a "traveling salesman," it does not follow that they care nothing about the farmers.

We believe the farmers in Penns Valley have every reason to know that Mr. Allison is a friend of the farmer, and a friend whose friendship has been put to the test and not found wanting. If there is a man in Centre county who has been, is, and will continue to be a friend of the farmers that man is William M. Allison. He was born and bred a farmer and farming figures prominently among his varied business interests. He knows what the farmers require; he is familiar with their needs and no one in the county is better fitted and qualified to represent its agricultural interests than he. To assert that because Mr. Allison is a "wealthy mill owner" he is indifferent to the interests and concerns of the farmers is nothing short of rank nonsense.

James K. P. Hall, the Democratic candidate for Congress, is a wealthy coal operator. He seeks a re-election to a position that involves in its scope of influence and power, a far greater opportunity for befriending the farmers and promoting their interests than that of the official position Mr. Allison solicits from his friends and neighbors. Why therefore, does not the Watchman apply to Mr. Hall, the wealthy coal operator, the same inference it applies to Mr. Allison the "wealthy mill owner?" It is a mighty poor deduction that will not fit both cases. It does of course but the Watchman could not be expected to admit it, why? Because Mr. Hall is a Democrat and Mr. Allison is a Republican. This is the distinction that makes the difference.

It is just as absurd to say that John K. Thompson is unconcerned about the farmers because he is a traveling sales man. He too is a product of the soil and until he grew to manhood he worked on his father's farm near Stormstown. In connection with his commercial duties he directs the management of the old home farm on which his widowed mother lives, and he is just as closely related to and identified with the agricultural interests of the county as any candidate on either county ticket. If he is not better equipped, by experience on the farm and in the business world, to serve the farmers in the General Assembly, than J. W. Kepler, who, according to his friends, has not enjoyed the advantage of an education acquired by contact with men and affairs in the busy world, beyond the circumscribed limits of the farm, then knowledge and experience are not essential qualifications in the make-up of a legislator.

"Some people call Mr. Thompson a political carpet-bagger" says the Watchman. Well, we might term that unkind if we knew who these "some people" were. Not knowing we can take the chances and say their opinion is on a level with their intelligence. Political carpet baggers are not and have not been a rarety in Centre county politics for example, Hon. R. M. Foster who served two terms as a Democrat in the Legislature is, and was at the time of his first and second elections, a traveling salesman, hence a political carpet-bagger.

If the annals of political history can produce a better specimen of a political carpet-bagger, cursed with a violent attack of "office itch," (this term is used with apologies to the Democratic Watchman) than William Jennings Bryan we have yet to learn his name. For four years from the date of his public repudiation by the American electors he filled the role of a traveling lecturer selling his wares, thereby filling his coffers and lining his pockets with good McKinley dollars, worth 100 cents to a dollar. After next Tuesday William J. B. will again have an opportunity—by the grace of the American voters, to resume his vocation as a traveling lecturer—or as "some people" would say, a political carpet-bagger, and dispose of his wares to the high bidders in gold standard dollars, the coin of the realm.

—The New York Herald has made its usual careful and conservative election forecast, and allots 281 votes to McKinley, ten more than he received in 1896. The Herald has been famous for years for the accuracy of its estimates.

THE same McKinley who is denounced for militarism and imperialism, was accused by the Democrats only two years ago of being a coward who would endure any insult or outrage from Spain rather than go to war.

—The Democrat who thinks Bryan is going to win is afraid to let his pocketbook think that way.

PROTECTION, PROSPERITY, PATRIOTISM, PROGRESS.

Citizens of Centre County, You Voted for Prosperity in 1896 and You Got It. Will You Vote it away in 1900?

A VOTE FOR McKINLEY, ROOSEVELT AND CLEARWATER, IS A VOTE FOR CONTINUED PROSPERITY, THE GLORY OF THE FLAG AND THE HONOR OF THE NATION.

WM. M. ALLISON, JOHN K. THOMPSON AND WILLIAM ROBB,

Are the Candidates of a Reunited Party—Their Election will Open the Way for Future Victories—Their Defeat May Mean an Irretrievable Loss to the Party Organization—Give the Harmony Ticket Your Loyal Support.

Vote the Straight Republican Ticket and you vote Right and in Accord with your Duty.

A DEMOCRATIC ATTEMPT TO CAUSE FACTIONAL FRICTION IN REPUBLICAN RANK IS EXPOSED.

The "Watchman" wilfully Misquotes a "Republican Editorial to Effect a Political Canard—It will Fail in Its Mission.

The cause of Democracy in Centre County must be in serious straits indeed when its chief organ, the "Democratic Watchman," is forced to resort to a wilful perversion of a "REPUBLICAN" editorial in order to supply an apparent lack for legitimate political argument. Everything is fair in love and war, according to an ancient authority whose wisdom has been exalted by a consistent approval of his most excellent and agreeable precept, and perhaps the same is true in modern politics, but just the same we draw the line when our editorials are deliberately misquoted and our sentiments are falsely and corruptly represented by an antagonistic press.

In last week's "Watchman" there appeared an editorial under the head, "Hastings Parades as the Dictator of His Party." This editorial, inspired doubtless by a growing apprehension of a Democratic defeat at the polls next Tuesday, was supported alone upon a flagrant misquotation of certain words in an editorial we produced in last week's "REPUBLICAN" the subject of which was "Vote for Allison, Thompson and Unity."

In our editorial we said "The genii who directs the destiny of political parties elected, however, that the Republican party of Centre County was not to be perpetually disunited and permanently incapacitated from playing an active and dominant part in political contests in the county, without a chance to reconstruct its disorganized condition."

"The leaders selected a county ticket—or rather two candidates for the Legislature—upon which all Republicans could unite and consistently support. This action was accorded a popular demonstration of approval; it was enthusiastically accepted at the county convention and the nomination of Messrs. Allison and Thompson was unanimously indorsed."

These two paragraphs were quoted in the "Watchman" but it suited the purpose of its editor, however, to have us say "the genii who directs the destiny of the political party" and "the leader selected a county ticket" in order to give the weight of veracity to his declaration that the "REPUBLICAN" recognized General Hastings as the "Genii" who directs the destiny of the Republican party in Centre County, and that through the columns of that paper he paraded as the dictator of his party.

This was indeed a very commendable effort on the part of the "Watchman"—as viewed from a Democratic standpoint—to injure the cause of Republican harmony but it will fail in its mission. The Republicans in Centre County are thoroughly acquainted with the methods employed by the "Watchman" in promoting its individual interests and those of the party whose champion it is, and they place a liberal discount upon all matter of a political character communicated through its columns. We, therefore, do not fear that the cause of Republican harmony has been impaired by the "Watchman's" latest evidence of its disregard for honesty and justice in a political campaign. Editorial license enjoys a most liberal range but there are limits to its scope and beyond these limits the "Watchman" transgressed when its editor indited and published an editorial deliberately and designedly based upon a misrepresentation of views expressed by the editor of the "REPUBLICAN."

Ever since the leaders of the Republican party agreed to side-track factionalism and unite on a party county ticket the course of the Democratic journals—particularly the "Watchman"—has been to keep alive the factional feeling in our party and hinder in every possible way the success of the project. They have been doing their best to arouse suspicion in the minds of Republicans as to the sincerity of the party leaders in the harmony agreement and they stop at nothing in their efforts to awaken the old feud in the Republican ranks

We have contended ever since the campaign opened in the county that the Democrats were filled with dismay and apprehension when the union of the Republican factions was consummated and a compromise ticket was placed in the field and that their only hope for the success of their candidates rested in their power to prevent a unanimous support by the Republicans in the county of the harmony agreement.

The Democrats are working this "only hope" for all there is in it, and the extent to which the necessities of their forlorn cause pushes them has been aptly illustrated in the action of the "Watchman" to which this article refers. We hope that the Republicans, independent of factional likes or dislikes, will stand to a man for the compromise county ticket. A Republican vote against Allison and Thompson is a vote to imperil the future of the party. Vote the straight Republican ticket. Do not cut or scratch a single candidate.

—According to Mr. Bryan's theory every trades union is a trust and ought to be smashed.

Vote for Allison and Thompson.

How Long Has Wetzel Lived in Centre County? Who is This Man Kepler?

"WHO is this man Thompson and how long has he lived in the county?" was an interrogation proclaimed through the medium of a Democratic paper last week. Our answer to the query is this: For any man to say he does not know John K. Thompson is to confess himself unknown. John K. Thompson is known throughout the length and breadth of Centre County, and to know him is to respect and esteem him. He is an honest and an honorable man, whose straightforward business methods and integrity inspires the confidence of all with whom his calling brings him in contact. He is a Centre Countian born and bred and but a few years of his life has been spent beyond its borders.

Let us ask this Democratic searcher for knowledge a question or two on the same lines. How long has Wetzel lived in the county? The answer might be, "All his life less the years he lived in Kansas." Some of his Democratic friends say he returned to Centre County to run for office; be this as it may it is for Democratic concern not ours. Who is this man Kepler? We would not advise his friends—particularly his intimates—to rush into print with an answer to this question. They might inadvertently introduce him to the public in an unfavorable light. It is said a man is known by his deeds, therefore it is not well for some men to be too well known. Voters should know the men for whom they are asked to vote. We think it would be well for the voters in Centre County not only to ask "Who is this man Kepler?" but to have confidence in the veracity of those who supply the information. A word to the wise is sufficient, at least it ought to be.

J. W. Kepler, Democratic candidate for Legislature, is using persuasive methods to get votes. He say: "Vote for me and if elected I will furnish you with a railroad pass whenever you want one." This is the farmer, and the farmer's friend whom the Democratic organs say will carefully guard the farmer's interests in the legislative halls. If he is going to pay ante-election obligations with railroad passes the farmers in Centre county will receive scant service from him if elected. His time, influence and vote will be subject to the pleasure of the railroad companies whose subservient vassal he will become in return for "transportation courtesy."

WILLIAM ROBB, the Republican candidate for Jury Commissioner is one of our county's best citizens. His election is assured by virtue of law but he should have the compliment of every Republican vote in the county.

—A burglar entered the home of Charles Smith in Jersey Shore Saturday morning, and stole from the bedroom a gold watch and $9. Other houses were also entered.

VOTE for Clearwater.

CLEARWATER FOR CONGRESS.

An Exponent of Protection, Sound Money and National Honor.

HIS RECORD NEEDS NO DEFENSE

His Canvass a Straight forward Manly Effort—Sunday Ox Roasts and Free Beer Not a Feature of His Campaign—Democratic Ridicule of His Religious Callings Deserves Rebuke.

CAST YOUR VOTE FOR CLEARWATER

Our uptown Democratic contemporary has been holding up Colonel Clearwater, the Republican Congressional candidate, as an object for ridicule and contempt because he is the Superintendent of the Presbyterian Sunday School at Wilcox. From some source or other, known only to themselves, the editors of the Centre Democrat have gained the knowledge that Colonel Clearwater is conducting his campaign upon the strength of his religious associations and practices.

With all due respect to our esteemed contemporaries, we feel called upon to charge them with a deliberate attempt to represent our Congressional candidate in the character of a man who would basely parade his religious appointments before the public in a political campaign for the purpose of creating a sentiment favorable to his cause. Colonel Clearwater is not such a man and the Centre Democrat cannot produce the slightest evidence to support their unwarranted and reprehensible attack upon him.

Colonel Clearwater is a christian gentleman, and he is an elder in the Presbyterian church of his home town and the Supefintendent of its Sunday School, but he is not using these sacred offices in his campaign against James K. P. Hall. He is a man of the highest christian character; a man who would not barter his good name and his unsullied reputation for the distinction, influence and emoluments to be had in the high office he seeks.

No one can point the finger of reproach or censure to the Republican candidate for Congress in the 28th district. He is a man among men; honest, upright, trustworthy, and loyal; loyal to his friends, loyal to his party, loyal to his country and loyal to its flag. He is a Republican and one who is in hearty accord with every principle and doctrine of the Republican party and in sympathy with every policy of President McKinley's administration, an administration which has been blessed with an era of prosperity and a season of National development that has not been equaled in the Nation's existence.

The partisans of Mr. Hall will make no votes for that gentleman by deriding the religious callings of Colonel Clearwater Better for Mr. Hall if his friends would direct their zeal and energy toward placing, if they could, in a respectable light before the respectable element of the district's electors Mr Halls political methods in his present campaign. If true what has been reported concerning that gentleman's campaign there has been much done that reflects neither credit nor dignity to his canvass.

Colonel Clearwater has not been charged either directly or indirectly with having provided free ox-roasts and free beer for Sunday carousals in his home county or any other county in the district. Can Mr. Hall say as much? True these charges have been denied—all political charges are as a rule whether true or otherwise—yet at the same time many are apt to believe that where there is smoke there is fire.

We are glad that Colonel Clearwater is a christian gentleman; that he is a Presbyterian elder and a Sunday school superintendent, because as such his campaign will be free from political debauchery and corrupt conduct, and his election will insure the people of the 28th district a representative in Congress whose public service will be an honor to the district, a credit to the Republicans of the districts and a testimonial to their wisdom and intelligence.

A VOTE for Allison and Thompson is a vote to unite the Republican party in Centre county. If this does not furnish an incentive for every Republican voter in the county to support these candidates then party spirit and party fidelity have deserted the ranks and the Republicans in Centre county are Republicans in name only.

SWEET WEDDING BELLS.

A Philadelphia Man Weds One of Pleasant Gap's Fair Daughters.

The cosy Methodist Episcopal church nestling beneath the shadows of Nittany mountain in the pretty little village of Pleasant Gap was the scene of an important social event Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock. The occasion was the giving in marriage of one of Pleasant Gap's fairest and most accomplished daughters, Miss Lyda White, daughter of Rev. Edmund White, the Methodist pastor at that place, to Herman J. Cunningham, a rising young business man of Philadelphia.

Over 500 people were gathered in the little church when the hour for the ceremony to be performed arrived. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with potted plants, palms, cut flowers etc., and was a bower of beauty.

Promptly at the appointed hour the bridal party entered the church to the music of Lohengrin's wedding march as played by Miss Mary Blanchard, of Bellefonte. The bride was given away by her father, Rev. White.

The ushers were Bruce Shreffler, of Pleasant Gap, and Harry Gentzell, of Altoona. The groom was attended by T. Taylor Shannon, of Philadelphia, and Woods Bathgate of Lemont.

The bridesmaid was Miss Mary Twitmire, of Pleasant Gap, and the maid or honor Miss Mame Bell, of the same place. Linnie Davis a niece of the bride, was flower girl and Harry Davis, a nephew, was ring bearer. Miss Lila Koontz, of Freeland, Pa., was train bearer.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert McKay D. D., of Moores'own, N. J., assisted by the bride's father.

The bride's costume was of white silk and she wore a pearl necklace, the gift of the groom, and carried in her hand a bouquet of bride's roses.

Miss Bell wore a costume of white satin and Miss Twitmire wore pale blue silk, both carried bouquets of carnations.

Miss Davis was attired in white satin and carried a bouquet of roses.

As the wedding party were leaving the church Miss Anna Brooks, of Pleasant Gap, sang the words of "Faithful and True" to the music of Lohengrin's wedding march. Miss Brooks has a beautiful soprano voice which she used to remarkable advantage.

The wedding party were driven immediately after the ceremony to the Brockerhoff House at this place where an elegant supper awaited them and where they passed a pleasant social evening.

The bride is a beautiful and accomplished young lady and a musician of remarkable ability. The groom is a prosperous and well to do merchant of the Quaker City. They left Thursday morning for Tampa, Florida, on an extended wedding tour.

The guests from a distance present were Mr. and Mrs. Koontz and daughter, Lila, of Freeland, Pa.; Dr. McKinn, of Lewistown, Dr. McKay and T. Taylor Shannon of Philadelphia.

The healthy old man wears his gray hairs like a silver crown. What if he be threescore and ten if there is still fire in his eye, firmness in his step, command in his voice and wisdom in his counsel? He commands love and reverence. Yet how few wear the mantle of age with dignity. Dim eyed, querulous of speech, halting in step, childish in mind, they "lag superfluous on the stage," dragging out the fag end of life in a simple existence. The secret of a healthy old age is a healthy middle age. The man who takes care of his stomach, who keeps his body properly nourished, will find that the body does not fail him in old age. The great value of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery lies in the preservation of the working power of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. From this center is distributed the nourishment of the whole body, the salt for the blood, the lime for the bones, phosphates for the brain and nerves. A sound stomach means a sound man. A man who keeps his stomach sound by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" will wear the crown of gray hairs as befits a monarch, with dignity and ease.

The rosette of the badge is fashion in national colors and the centre contains a miniature head of the American eagle which once graced the regiment's old battle flag. The Colonel got it from the regimental color bearer at Brady station just prior to the Battle of the Wilderness. The flag of the old 49th was then in tatters, a silent testimonial to the valor and patriotism of its followers.

The color bearer allowed the Colonel to cut the eagle head from the shreds of the flag which he did. It now adorns the Colonel's regimental badge and is a memento of the 49th's gallant record during the 60's that money could not buy.

Curious Features of Life.

A South Side man residing in a big apartment house has been robbed two or three times in the past year, and finally grew tired of it and set about devising some means of warding off the robbers, which would not necessitate some one remaining in the flat every evening. Not only does he leave the gas lighted, but he has purchased a phonograph which talks in loud and resonant tone for a time and then throws out a few remarks in a deeper voice, accompanied by much laughter. The record is that of a conversation between two men, and was made to order. The listener outside of the door of the flat would swear two large, burly men were in the room, and, as the conversation is a long one relative to the case with which one of the men threw two other men downstairs a few nights before, it is calculated to make a burglar pause and reflect. A megaphone horn is attached to the machine, which increases the volume of the voices, and when the owner of the device wishes to take his wife to the theatre he sets the repeat switch, which will reproduce the conversation as long as the battery lasts, turns on the machine and goes blithly away. He has not been robbed since he invented the device.—Chicago Chronicle.

A Physician of Some Note Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, October 26.—After an illness which continued over a year, Dr. Lawrence Turnbull, an eminent physician and chemist, died yesterday at his home here, aged 79 years.

Dr. Turnbull was a native of Lanarkshire, Scotland, and came to this country when 12 years of age. He was graduated from the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Jefferson Medical college. Besides holding membership in various medical societies he presided over the section in otology of the American Medical association in 1880, and of the British Medical association in 1881, and he was chosen a delegate to the section of otology of the British Medical association in 1888 and the congress of otologists that convened in Brussels, the same year. After the second battle of Bull Run, Dr. Turnbull served in Emery hospital, Washington, and at Fortress Monroe.

Dr. Turnbull was the author of many valuable works on diseases of the ear and eye.

GREENVILLE, October 26.—Two damage suits for $10,000 each have been commenced against the Bessemer Railroad, the result of an accident near Conneaut Lake, by which Fred Gilson, engineer, and William Snedden, fireman, both of Erie, were killed. Both actions are brought on the assumption that the wreck was due to defective track at a sharp curve, of which the defendant company had full knowledge.

—Mrs. T. Briddleman, of Parshallville, Mich., was troubled with salt rheum for thirteen years and had tried a number of doctors without relief. After two or three applications of Banner Salve, her hands became better and in a short time she was entirely cured. All druggists.

THE chances for Republican victory are brighter than they were four years ago, and the counting of the ballots will show that the people have not changed their views as to what policy tends to their progress and prosperity.

AS Adlai E. Stevenson denounced the maintenance of the flag in 1861, he is consistent in his advocacy of hauling it down today.

BRYAN'S argument against a working man's full dinner pail is an empty one.

GALLANT FORTY-NINTH.

Their 19th Annual Reunion Held in Bellefonte Proves a Great Success.

The 19th annual reunion of the Veteran Society of the 49th Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers which was held here Thursday and Friday proved a great success in every particular. There was a large attendance of the members of the society upwards of 70 being present. The old soldiers were made to feel perfectly at home in Bellefonte and right royally were they entertained.

Col. Irvin was the commander of this company which was recruited as follows: two companies from Huntingdon county, two from Centre, two from Chester, one from Snyder, one from Juniata, two from Bedford and one from Union.

Thursday afternoon there was a business meeting held in the rooms of Gregg Post, at which business of importance was transacted. The officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

President—Charles Smith, of Pine Grove Mills.

Vice Presidents—Don Juan Wallings, of Delaware county, and Sylvester B. Weber, of Lewistown.

Secretary—R. S. Westbrook, of Altoona.

Treasurer—J. L. Barton, of Juniata.

Chaplain—Dr. A. M. Smith, of Snyder county.

They selected as the place of meeting for next year Newport, Perry county.

At 6 o'clock they were entertained at supper by the ladies of the Methodist church and in the evening a rousing camp fire was furnished by the Coleville band in their usual excellent style. The proceedings were opened by an earnest prayer by Rev. H. C. Holloway, D. D., pastor of the Lutheran church. An eloquent address of welcome was delivered by Hon. John G. Love, president judge of this district. This was responded to on the part of the veterans by Capt. J. L. Barton, of Pleasant View, Pa.

This was followed by the stereopticon exhibit of prominent men of the 49th Regiment, military and local scenery etc., given by Mallory & Taylor, the enterprising Bellefonte photographers. This was a very pleasant feature of the evenings program and the pictures of camp life, old soldiers etc., were received with continued rounds of applause.

Clement Dale then read an interesting paper giving the history of the 49th Regiment. Addresses followed by W. Harrison Walker Esq., Capt. H. S. Taylor and J. C. Meyer.

Friday morning there was a final business session held in the Post rooms after which the reunion was brought to a successful finish.

At 8 a. m., the old soldiers were tendered a carriage ride to the principal points of interest in and about Bellefonte.

Great credit is due the Committee of Arrangements for the success of the reunion. It was composed as follows: Wm. H. Taylor chairman; S. M. McMurtrie and Charles Eckenroth.

Banquet committee of Gregg Post, G. A. R., S. H. Williams, Amos Mullen and Col. John I. Curtin.

At the business meeting held this morning the following resolutions were adopted unanimously:

Resolved, That the thanks of the society are hereby tendered to the citizens of Bellefonte, Gregg Post No. 95, the Coleville band, and the Commissioners of Centre county and the speakers, Rev. H. C. Holloway, Hon. John G. Love, Clement Dale, Capt. H. S. Taylor, W. Harrison Walker and J. C. Meyers, for the services given in making our re-union so pleasant.

Resolved, That the thanks of the society are hereby rendered to Comrades Taylor, McMurtrie and Eckenroth, Col. Mullen and Gen. John I. Curtin, for the efficient manner in which they prepared the way for the very fine and enjoyable reunion which was held, and that the above resolutions be spread upon the minutes and published with the proceedings.

Bryan and Trusts.

Bryan says that more trusts have been formed under the present than under all previous administrations. If so, there must have been a strong inducement—a vast amount of business for them to transact. We never hear of trusts being extensively organized in bad times. Then, too, the investment of money always means more employment for wage-workers and a benefit to labor. Capital may be utterly dissipated, but in the course of the venture it must pay wages. Trusts may go down to disaster, and fail to return any profits to capital, but they must pay wages and benefit labor as long as they continue in business. The one class certain to gain is labor. Workingmen understand all this a great deal better than Bryan does.

A New Telephone Company.

A new telephone company, to be known as "The Huntingdon and Clearfield Company," to operate in Centre, Clearfield, Cambria, Blair, Huntingdon, Bedford and Fulton counties, will make application to the Governor on November 19th for a charter. Among the incorporators are W. H. Denlinger, Thos. H. Murray and Allison O. Smith, of Clearfield, and a number of other prominent residents of Huntingdon and other places.

Valuable Horses Poisoned.

Two valuable horses, belonging to Thos. Furst, of Beech Creek, were poisoned a day or two ago, and where or how they secured the drug is a mystery. One horse was bred by the well known "Almont Prince." The animals died within a few hours of each other.

This picture is the trade mark of SCOTT'S EMULSION, and is on every bottle of SCOTT'S EMULSION in the World, which now amounts to many millions yearly. This great business has grown to such vast proportions,

First:-Because the proprietors have always been most careful in selecting the various ingredients used in its composition, namely; the finest Cod Liver Oil, and the purest Hypophosphites.

Second:-Because they have so skillfully combined the various ingredients that the best possible results are obtained by its use.

Third:-Because it has made so many sickly, delicate children strong and healthy, given health and rosy cheeks to so many pale, anaemic girls, and healed the lungs and restored to full health, so many thousands in the first stages of Consumption.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample, its agreeable taste will surprise you.

The Busy Farmer.

Our farmers are now generally busy at the last of their harvest work, that of husking and housing their corn crop which by the way is a fairly good one. Then after finishing up threshing, early butchering, etc., the pressure of work will be pretty well over, and there will be a season of comparative rest for our rural friends, although the good farmer will always find something to do, even in the dull winter months. It is a busy life, and even what he may call his season of rest has plenty of toil and care mixed in with it. But after all, who is so independent as the farmer, and who enjoys life better?

The Prisoner Came Back.

DOVER, Del., Oct. 26.—Former Secretary of State John D. Hawkins, indicted on a charge of embezzling $3,000 and who escaped from the custody of the sheriff Wednesday afternoon, walked into the Superior Court yesterday, accompanied by one of his bondsmen, and surrendered. He was placed in jail. The court rescinded the forfeiture of $4,000 bail.

but there is one sure and prompt cure for both, viz:

BRYAN may get the idle vote this year, but it will be much smaller than it was in 1896. The mills and factories are running on full time now.

CONDITIONS IN VARIOUS MARKETS

The Elections Mean a Great Deal to All Business Interests.

NEW YORK, October 27.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade today says:

The elections mean a great deal to all business interests, and, although confidence in the future is seen on every hand, it is but natural that men do not care to take unnecessary chances, and therefore delay new engagements as far as possible until after the ballots are counted. But contracts for steel rails for the season thus far are within 50,000 tons of last year's heavy bookings, and the confidence in an ultimate marked improvement is so strong that all raw materials are firm and without any speculative activity to stimulate them. The agitation for an advance in billets, though a small one, is an indication of what the iron and steel markets expect in the next six months and in the great industries, sellers of material could easily make heavy contracts if they cared to attach political provisions to their agreements. However unreasonable fears may be, it is likely to be better for business in the long run that conservative ideas for the present are entertained. The weather over a great part of the country has been favorable for agricultural operations, which are progressing well, and in the east the unseasonable temperature has retarded trade comparatively little, as there has been no great stimulus yet this season.

Conditions in the iron and steel market steadily improved, orders gradually swell in volume and buyers make less effort to secure concessions. In most cases quotations are not altered, but there is an advance to $20 at Philadelphia for billets, owing to the better business in rails. Pig iron moves freely, especially at Chicago, where manufacturers have contracted heavily for finished stuff in excess of raw material on hand.

Cast iron pipe is in urgent demand and new plans for ship building will take plates Bridge builders are buying structural forms heavily. Makers of rails and other products of iron have been accused of quoting better terms to foreign than to domestic buyers. If this is done it would seem to be the manufacturers' affair rather than the newspapers.'

Minor metals are quiet except for further weakness in tin Silver has reached the highest price in four years.

Cotton showed little recuperative power after last week's decline and closed lower.

Brave Explorers

Like Stanley and Livingstone, found it harder to overcome malaria, fever and ague, and typhoid disease germs than savage cannibals; but thousands have found that Electric Bitters is a wonderful cure for all malarial diseases. If you have chills with fever, aches in back of neck and head, and tired, worn out feeling, a trial will convince you of their merit. W. A. Null, of Webb, Ill., writes: "My children suffered for more than a year with chills and fever; then two bottles of Electric Bitters cured them." Only 50 cents. Try them. Guaranteed Sold by F. Potts Green, druggist.

Four Women Led the Mob.

SHAMOKIN, Oct. 27.—Fifteen hundred angry men, women and children assembled near the Cameron colliery last evening and as the non-union workmen left for home they were assailed by volleys of cobble stones. Although every one of the workmen had been sworn in as special policemen and were armed they did not shoot into the mob, which was led by four women carrying the American flag.

In escorting Paul Klinger, the breaker boss, from the mine, his brother, Constable Joseph Klinger, fired one shot at a crowd on a bridge because they hurled rocks at the pair as they traversed a railroad. Following the shot part of the mob chased the brothers into the city limits. Miles Dougherty, an officer of the local miners organization, hearing of the riotous demonstration, hurried to the scene and in a brief address persuaded the mob to disperse.

To judge from the amount of money that is being spent by small-fry politicians in scouring the country on special trains, there is a good deal of real prosperity lying around loose.

—A rock at Harrisburg shows that the Susquehanna is slightly lower than for any year since 1863, at which time a phenomenally low stage was marked upon it.

—As the campaign draws to a close the Democratic fusers in Philadelphia are withdrawn from the calcium light, and put away back on the last row.

—When the fearless Bryan is asked if he would pay our coin obligations in silver he glibly replies: "Read our platform."

—Debs had as big a reception in Philadelphia as Bryan.

CIGARETTE CRUSADE.

Preachers Will Ask Business Men not to Employ Users.

A movement is on foot to secure the signatures of business men, manufacturers and employers of large numbers of young men, to a circular pledging themselves not to employ or keep in their employ those whom they know to be cigarette smokers. This is but the beginning of a crusade by the ministers of the cities to eradicate the continued use of the cigarette, which they claim is responsible for much crime and intemperance.

Rev. C. L. Thurgood of the Central Christian church, Pittsburg, and Rev. A. H. Ciafin of the First Congregationalist church, Allegheny, were appointed on the anti-cigarette committee some time ago, by the federation of churches, to report a a method of stopping the wholesale smoking of this alleged dangerous article. Rev. Mr. Thurgood stated yesterday that he thought this was the best method of putting a stop to the habit and of aiding young men to keep away from smoking an article which all the educators of the country unite in condemning as pernicious to the last degree. They expect to enlist the aid of every business man of reason, and to kill the sale of cigarettes in the two cities.

"The movement is but a step in the right direction," said Rev. Mr. Thurgood yesterday. "We must aid our young men to avoid habits that injure the health, stunt the brain and kill ambition. In the city of Chicago the Anti-Cigarette league is taking just such active steps to save young America; and I understand merchants and business men are flocking to assist them in the work by signing similar circulars to those we propose placing before our capitalists. Miss Mary Gaston is at the head of the movement there, and we expect it to spread to every city in the land, ultimately forcing men to smoke good cigars, if they must smoke at all, and ending in the complete destruction of the cigarette.

Miss Gaston sent me some interesting letters the other day, received by the Anti-Cigarette league from the leading school teachers, principals and educators in the city of Chicago. These relate to the general effect of cigarette-smoking on the pupils of the schools, and all reach the same conclusion, namely, that the pupils who persist in using cigarettes sustain a loss of brain power and have to be pushed along in their work. The evil effects, they say, are far-reaching, and the young men of the land who are addicted to the use of this article degenerate gradually.

"If the business men assist us, I am sure we can almost put a stop to this habit in Allegheny county. We shall ask them to pledge themselves to employ only those who do not use cigarettes and I think we shall succeed in our work. I intend to have a talk with Christians on this subject and shall make it the subject of a sermon. I understand the movement is spreading and will become world-wide with the assistance of those who employ men."

A Former Howard Man Dead.

Mr. Samuel Loder, who was born and raised near Howard, died on Tuesday morning last of typhoid fever, after an illness of about four weeks, at his home in Flemington.

He was aged 39 years and six months, and is survived by a loving wife and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Sallie Shilling, of Bellefonte, Miss Lizzie, of Montoursville, George, John and William of Howard, and Philip, of Pittsburg.

The funeral took place on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late residence. Services were conducted by Rev. A. R. Miller. Interment in the Flemington cemetery.

Lost and Found.

Joshua T. Potter, living west of Centre Hall, last week lost a valuable gold watch while working in the corn field. Diligent search was made in every part of the corn field by himself and family and neighbors, but all seemed in vain until Sunday morning, when the time-piece was found in an adjoining lot, safe and sound, with case lying open. Mr. Potter carried several sheaves of corn fodder to feed some cattle near where the article was found, and in some way the watch became detached from his clothing. The cattle no doubt carried the watch with the fodder to where it was found on Sunday.

Burglars at Julian.

Burglars entered the store of Irvin Bros., general merchants, at Julian last week, by breaking through a window, opened the safe and took therefrom $50 in cold cash and made good their escape. The safe was not locked, and after entrance to the store room was gained the rest was easy. "Home talent" is suspected. The Irvins are brothers of L. C. Irvin, hardware dealer, in this place.

—The Bellefonte Glass Works, which have been idle since last June, started at midnight Saturday. The company has been reorganized and it is hoped everything will go along satisfactorily.

DEBS MAKES A SPEECH.

Predicts a Panic if Either McKinley or Bryan is Elected.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—Eugene V. Debs, candidate for president on the social democratic ticket, was the principal speaker at a mass meeting held Thursday night in the Academy of Music under the auspices of the social democrats of this city. Edward Coppinger, the socialistic candidate for congressman-at-large from Pennsylvania, presided, and Frank M. Gessner, of Pittsburg, was the first speaker.

Mr. Debs said in part: "The republican party represents the dominant capitalistic class, the democratic party the perishing middle class and the socialist democratic party the working class. The whole issue is one of class and the sooner the workingmen of the country become class conscious the quicker will victory be theirs.

"Imperialism and expansion do not interest the workingman in any way. If the questions were settled as the republican party would have them settled or as the democratic party is urging that they be settled, the workingman's condition will still be one of economic bondage. I want to tell you that whether McKinley or Bryan is elected a panic greater than this country has ever known is coming just as sure as you are here to night."

This Bank Thief Was Arrested.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Another bank defalcation came to light yesterday afternoon, when William J. Beckley, 32 years old, was arrested on the charge of grand larceny. M. W. Halsey, of the firm of N. W. Harris & Co., bankers, declared that Beckley had been in the employ of the firm as bookkeeper and teller for three years and that he had stolen $6,400 in that time.

On the advice of counsel, Beckley waived examination and was held in default of $5,000 bail for the grand jury. He refused to answer any questions and his counsel would not be any more communicative. Beckley has been married six months and it is said has been spending the money in playing the horse races and has been somewhat "sporty."

Was Having a Good Time.

A city woman sent her small boy into the country says an exchange, and after a week of anxiety received the following letter: "I got here all right but I forgot to write before. A feller and I went out in a boat. And the boat tipped over and a man got me out. I was so full of water I didn't know anything for a good while. The other boy is to be buried when they find him. A horse kicked me over and I have got to have some money for fixing up my head. We are going to set an old barn on fire tonight and I should smile if we don't have some bully fun. I shall bring home a tame pole cat if I can get him in my trunk."

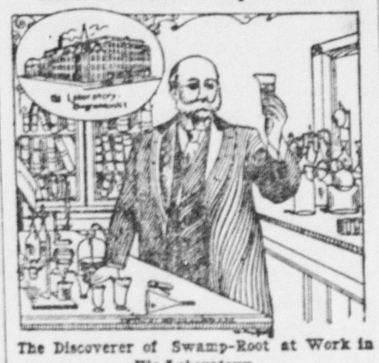
The Estate of Hon. Andrew Reed, of Lewistown, Appraised.

Mrs. A. B. McNitt, mother of Brown McNitt, who successfully conducts a farm near Centre Hall, is one of the heirs to the estate of Hon. Andrew Reed, of Lewistown, an inventory of which was made recently, the whole amounting to about $250,000. By his will his nephew, Andrew Reed McNitt, gets $1000. The balance to be divided into four equal shares between his sisters, Mrs. Rebecca Hayes and Mrs. Sarah McNitt, and his brothers Ogleby Reed and John Reed, all residing in Mifflin county. As Mr. Reed was a bachelor and had no children the state gets five per cent of his estate as an inheritance tax, which amounts to between 11 and 12 thousand dollars.

The Eminent Kidney and Bladder Specialist.



The Discoverer of Swamp-Root at Work in His Laboratory.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Then the richness of the blood—the albumen—leaks out and the sufferer has Bright's Disease, the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root the new discovery is the true specific for kidney, bladder and urinary troubles. It has cured thousands of apparently hopeless cases, after all other efforts have failed. At druggists in fifty-cent and dollar sizes. A sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling about Swamp-Root and its wonderful cures. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. EDITORIAL.

A Democratic Victim of the "Office Itch" Who Has Been Well Scratched.

THE "Democratic Watchman" says that John K. Thompson has the office-itch and whether elected to the legislature this year, or not, he will be a candidate for county treasurer two years hence. As to Mr. Thompson's future candidacy for office we cannot deny or affirm the "Watchman's" allegation, nor would we take the trouble to do so whether we could or not. Mr. Thompson has a perfect right to enter the lists for county treasurer if he pleases. This is a free country and none are debarred from office-seeking no matter how often they had previously made the effort. As to the office-itch, well, that is another American privilege. If Mr. Thompson has the office itch he has company. We might fill our paper with the names of those who have suffered and are suffering from the same complaint. Without going a thousand miles from home we will cite as a victim of this popular malady our esteemed editorial friend, Hon. P. Gray Meek, Democratic candidate for Auditor General. A perusal of Mr. Meek's life-sketch will develop the fact that he has been a patient and consistent sufferer from office-itch for these many, many years and it has still got him in its clutches. We might add that Mr. Thompson is emulating a worthy example.

"GREAT IS TAMMANY AND CROKER IS ITS PROPHET."

These words were uttered by William Jennings Bryan in his speech at Cooper Union Hall, New York, Oct. 16, 1900. Do the American people approve of the alliance between Bryan and Croker? Do the American people want Tammany Hall methods to be introduced at Washington? Do the American people want as their President a man who is elected by Tammany corruption funds that are levied from vice, Gamblers, Blackmailers, Thieves and Thugs? Shall the Chief Magistrate of this Nation be a representative of Vice? Let the votes of the Centre County electors proclaim their repudiation of a man who trains with Croker and his band of political looters and despoilers.

ARE WE TO HAVE HARMONY OR DISSENSION?

For the last time in this campaign we appeal to the Republicans of Centre County to ignore the causes which lead to our recent factional dissensions; to forget or overlook their unpleasant and unhappy results, and give their earnest and hearty co-operation toward the consummation of the party harmony project, designed to reunite a disorganized political body and make it what it should and can be, a dominant power in the future government of our county. As we have said before, the unity of the party factions is, or should be, the paramount issue in the campaign this year for the Republicans of Centre County. The leaders of the party have buried their factional hatchets, so to speak, and stand to a man united and pledged to the support of the party ticket. Surely, their respective adherents can afford to follow their leaders and unite in the support of what is now a common cause.

The poll of the county shows a remarkable increase in the Republican ranks and never before have the prospects for a Republican victory been so bright and full of promise. It does seem that if the Republican party is ever to be united its opportunity arrives with the election next Tuesday. The time is ripe for reconciliation. Should we allow this chance to escape us it may be years before we again are given such a splendid occasion for getting together in political accord and unity.

Our factional disagreements and contests were not in harmony with the sentiment of the majority of the Republicans throughout the county, notwithstanding the large measure of support and sympathy each contending faction received in the past several battles at the polls. From every section of the county complaints came to headquarters and urgent demands were made for the discontinuance of factional warfare. In obedience to the oft reiterated wishes and demands of the many, to whom the future of their party was of more consequence than the victories of factional leaders, individual hostilities and political differences were set aside and harmony displaced discord.

With a purpose, only for the unification of the party, in mind, the leaders urged William M. Allison and John K. Thompson to accept the nomination for legislature. It was believed that with these men, whom all know, all respect, and in whom none lack confidence, as candidates upon an issue of party harmony and unity, victory would respond to the efforts of a combined force and cement hard and fast party ties and affiliations to endure for years to come.

The cordial and practically unanimous approval of the course taken by the party leaders, as demonstrated at the party primaries and in the county convention, justifies the hope that there will be no dissenting voices or no antagonistic votes in evidence on election day. The question which the Republicans of Centre County will be called upon to decide next Tuesday is whether the party shall remain divided against itself and as such continue to be, as it were, the plaything or foot ball of an exultant political adversary, or whether it shall be united and as such acquire a consolidated force and political influence that will lead to victorious achievements in future campaigns. What will be your verdict, Republicans of Centre County?

You vote for McKinley when you vote for Clearwater. Don't forget that. President McKinley will need with him a Congress in harmony with his policies. Hall is against everything that McKinley represents. He would oppose every measure that was meant to prolong and augment the present prosperous condition of the country. Hall is a Bryanite, therefore he is for free silver, free trade, cheap labor, and a furled flag. Vote for Clearwater.

IT seems probable that the celebration in New York in honor of Bryan cost at least one week's profit of the Democratic Ice Trust.

BRYAN THE DODGER.

William J. Bryan discovers a new cause of agitation and alarm in each presidential election. At his first appearance in National politics he claimed the country was in danger of ruin from the tariff and could be saved only by a free trade policy. After experiencing a thumping defeat on this issue, he discovered four years later that the gold standard was the cause of all our woes, and relief could be had only from free silver. In this also he was sadly out of harmony with public sentiment as the result of the election of 1896 emphatically demonstrated.

Beginning the present campaign, Mr. Bryan dropped free trade and free silver as the cardinal doctrines of Bryanized Democracy, and the remedies for our National disorders, and rushes into the political arena astride the issue of imperialism. This issue, which can only be described as a flag furling exhibition of treasonable disloyalty to the country; a reproach to the memory of our country's founders, did not strike a responsive chord in the hearts of the Nation's patriotic millions and now the star political mountebank of modern times has all but forsaken the issue he vehemently declared to be "paramount" but a few weeks ago, and has dodged over onto trusts. Truly, Senator Hanna struck the nail on the head when he said the paramount issue with Bryan is "Any old thing to be President."

A REPUBLICAN Congress is as essential to the needs of the country and as necessary to the prosperity of the people as is a Republican President, and perhaps more so. Your country's success and progress and your individual interests and welfare demand that you vote for Clearwater for Congress. It is your duty, do not evade it.

REMEMBER, that in 1892 you voted for a change, and had no change in your pockets afterwards. Don't make the same mistake in 1900. Best bear the ills you have, if any, under present conditions than fly to those concealed behind Bryan's adroitly presented sophistries.

WHAT A VOTE WILL DO. WHAT IS YOURS TO DO?

A VOTE for McKinley is a vote for a 100 cent dollar.

A vote for McKinley is a vote to keep our mills and factories open and in active operation.

A vote for McKinley is a vote for the protection of our industries and our workingmen against European competition and cheap labor.

A vote for McKinley is a vote to honor and glorify our flag and place our Nation foremost among the powers of the world.

A vote for McKinley is a vote for the suppression of Aguinaldo and his rebellious hordes and for the establishment of a government of civil and religious liberty in islands which Providence has placed under our care and protection.

A vote for McKinley is a vote to maintain the honor and integrity of our government; to keep its institutions free from the blighting influences of Crokerism, Tillmanism and Atgeldism and to protect them from the pernicious and ruinous policies of Bryanism.

A VOTE for Bryan is a vote for a 42-cent dollar.

A vote for Bryan is a vote to close our mills and factories.

A vote for Bryan is a vote for Free Trade—for labor in Europe against American labor.

A vote for Bryan is a vote to dishonor our flag and humiliate our Nation before the world.

A vote for Bryan is a vote to reward Aguinaldo for his revolutionary murder of our soldiers and to place him in "imperial" control of a people and country but lately freed from Spanish despotism by American valor and courage.

A vote for Bryan is a vote to place our government at the mercy of that organization of political vampires known as Tammanyites and to threaten its honor and integrity by the ascendency of the Atgelds, the Tillmans, the Pettigrews, the Sulzers and the Lentzes.

IF M'KINLEY WINS.

Protection, sound money, work and wages at 100 cent dollars will continue for years to come.

We shall start on the new century the proudest, the busiest, the happiest, the richest people on earth.

There will be an increase in mills and a decrease in almshouses, an increase of prosperity and a decrease of poverty.

Millions of new capital will at once be put into new enterprises, and every honest, capable man who wants work will have it.

The flag will be kept afloat wherever American valor and courage have placed it, and our country honored and respected the world over.

This country will see the greatest industrial era ever enjoyed by any people. We will feed the world, manufacture for the world, and become the world's banker.

IF BRYAN WINS.

Croker will run the Government as he rules New York. He has become Bryan's absolute master.

We shall not only be dishonored at home but discredited in every civilized country on the globe.

Our Government will be like a ship without a rudder—floundering in a sea of disorder, dishonor and disaster.

Labor will suffer first. Wages will be reduced and savings will shrink. The mills and factories will close and hard times will come again.

The laboring man, the farmer, the merchant, the manufacturer, the capitalist, every one will go back to the conditions of 1893-96.

We shall not have to wait till he is inaugurated for the hard times he is sure to bring. They will begin the morning after his election. It will mean immediate business disaster and the greatest burden will fall upon the wage earners.

WILL YOU DO IT?

Will you all—Republicans, Democrats, Populists (or whatever may be your title)—get on your working clothes and go to the polls on November 6 and vote the straight Republican ticket that will insure victory for one of the best men that has occupied the Presidential chair since it was vacated by that wisest of wise men, Abraham Lincoln?

William McKinley is the man—a human being like ourselves—a good man, an honest man, a statesman, a soldier, a diplomat—tried in office, and well broken to harness. None can better serve the people—the whole people—of the United States, and we, the people—the whole people—must have him as our servant—yet our honored Chief Magistrate for four years more. He is our country's mascot.

STAND FAST FOR McKINLEY, for Patriotism, Protection, Prosperity, Progress.

REPUBLICANS, LINE UP AND VOTE STRAIGHT.

WHAT about the consent of the governed in Kentucky, Mr. Bryan? You were particeps criminis in the outrageous affair of two years ago, by which the governorship of Kentucky was stolen, and you have not said a word in rebuke of the monstrous crime nor in favor of the abolition of the mockery of law under which it was perpetrated.

BRYAN says Democracy reigns in New York City. Oh, no, Mr. Bryan; it is only Crokerism. Your mistake is excusable, however. A good many people mistake Bryanism for Democracy.

BRYAN says that he stands on the silver question exactly where he stood four years ago. So, he will find, does the country.

WELL, how much or little Webster Davis got, it is practically certain Oom Paul has now made up his mind that he wasn't worth it.

Don't wait until it begins to sprinkle before starting to lay up money for a rainy day.

ROOSEVELT AT BUFFALO.

Made Three Speeches in the Big City Wednesday Night.

IMMENSE AUDIENCES HEARD HIM

Touched on Many Questions, Including Price of Coal and Mr. Burke Cockran's Fear of Imperialism and Militarism.

WHAT WILLIAM J. BRYAN WOULD DO

BUFFALO, Nov. 1.—The train bearing the republican vice presidential candidate, arrived in this city shortly after 4 o'clock Wednesday after making a pause at Black Rock an industrial suburb of Buffalo and the northbound railway centre the city.

Gov. Roosevelt spoke at 3 meetings last night, one on the east side in the industrial portion of the city, which was an open air affair and where so many people were gathered that less than one-half of them could hear the speaker. Another followed in a small hall, where the major part of the audience was composed of working men, and the third and last in the immense convention hall, which was filled to the very doors. At this latter place the other traveling orators kept the audience interested for nearly 2 hours until the governor arrived. In addition to touching upon the many subjects which he has exploited at other places, the governor said in part:

"Our opponents having no case on the facts are constantly obliged to alter facts in order to make their case. I have noticed placards in your city, put up by them, stating that the cost of coal was $7.25 per ton and that this was due to the anthracite coal trust. As a matter of fact the retail price delivered is $5.75, just about what it always has been at this season of the year.

Mr. Bourke Cockran spoke here the other night. He presented Mr. Bryan's issues rather better than Mr. Bryan could present them, yet I confess it is incomprehensible to me how Mr. Cockran can now champion Mr. Bryan. I have not been afraid of what he said, in view of what he said four years ago.

"Well, what are the reasons he gives as his excuse? In the first place, imperialism; in the second, militarism.

"By imperialism he means our expansion in the Philippines, an expansion conducted on exactly the same basis as Jefferson's expansion into the country west of the Mississippi. Mr. Cockran and Mr. Bryan have been both affected to feel great horror from the fact that polygamy and, as alleged, slavery exists in Sulu, in the Philippine archipelago, which is now under our flag.

"I should like to ask them if they think that it will help their policy in the event of our withdrawing our flag? Of course, as a matter of fact, the only chance of getting rid of either consists in keeping the flag up. We cannot do everything in a day. Messrs. Bryan and Cockran would be the first to rave against President McKinley if he now added to the war with Aguinaldo another war with the sultan of Sulu.

"Half a century ago there were many abolitionists, sincere, but absolutely foolish, and wrong headed people who wanted the free staters to secede from the union because there was slavery in the union. Had their advice been followed slavery would exist to the present day in the southern states. The only thing to do was what we actually did, that is to keep the flag flying and when the fullness of time arrived, abolished slavery.

"So it is in Sulu. We shall keep the flag flying and therefore in the end polygamy and slavery will both disappear. I might mention incidentally that President McKinley has already declined to recognize slavery in the island and therefore has taken steps towards its abolition.

TWO DECLARATIONS.

"If there is any one who believes the Gold Standard is a good thing, or that it must be maintained, I warn him not to cast his ballot for me, because I promise him it will not be maintained in this country longer than I am able to get rid of it."—William Jennings Bryan in a speech at Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 16, 1896.

"What I denounce is a Protective Tariff. It is false economy and the most vicious political principle that has ever cursed this country.—William Jennings Bryan in a speech in the House of Representatives, 1894, advocating the passage of the Wilson-Gorman Free Trade Tariff law

—Keep your eye on the man who is eternally ranting about the dear old flag and his beloved country. Follow this patriot to his home and you will likely find his wife bending over a wash tub, striving to support herself and children in order that a township or borough section of her husband's beloved country may not find it necessary to take the job off her hands.

THE LAST WORD.

Just a word to the workingmen, the mechanics, the farmers and all who have enjoyed the fruits and shared in the blessings that have attended the wise and beneficent administration of President McKinley. The men who are most active in the canvass for Mr. Bryan and are most anxious for his success, are those who expect to profit by his election and feed for four years on the flesh-pots of Federal appointments. Had you thought of that?

These vociferous enthusiasts who are urging the defeat of McKinley and striving in their might for the election of Bryan have their eyes focused on the treasure boxes of Uncle Sam, and are living in the hope that fortune may give them the chance to gorge upon their contents. Did this occur to you?

In event of Bryan's election these zealous champions of his cause will be rewarded, as they hope and expect to be, by official appointment with a fat salary, sufficient to place them beyond the reach of adversity and want which is sure to be the lot of those who are dependent upon activity and prosperity in the business and commercial world, if Bryan is elected.

Are you willing to forfeit your present prosperity, lose your job, throw away your position and live for the next four years or more in idleness and on charity simply to open the doors to Federal appointments for the benefit of the chronic office-seekers who scorns honest labor and lives by their wits.

In McKinley's re-election this gentry has nothing to hope for, nothing to gain. In Bryan's election they will have the opportunity they seek and will obtain the reward they claim. Their success will be at your expense, because you will suffer if Bryan is elected. You will pay the penalty. They will have "pie" but the cupboard will be bare for you. Charity begins at home, don't forget that. Protect and foster your own interests. The way to do it is to vote for McKinley, Roosevelt and Clearwater who stand on a platform of Protection, Prosperity, Patriotism and Progress.

Shakespeare's Manuscripts a Mystery.

Where are Shakespeare's manuscript? Nobody can tell. Could anyone discover them and offer these literary treasures for sale, a million of money would readily be offered, not only by private collectors, but by the various national libraries and museums eager to obtain relics of such immense importance. Apart from the historical value they would possess, Shakespeare's manuscripts would have another supreme interest. They would no doubt assist in settling the disputed authorship of the plays. They could be compared with the existing specimens of the great poet's handwriting. Would they show the same caligraphy as that of the signatures on Shakespeare's will, on the Blackfriars estate deeds, and the copy of Florio's "Montaigne" possessed by the British Museum? As to the latter being in the actual hand of the master some doubt exists, but the authenticity of the former specimens has never been questioned. Shakespeare's manuscripts have vanished, disappeared as though they had never existed.—Newcastle (Eng.) Chronicle.

In 1900.
Will you vote for the RIGHT or the WRONG man?

WHICH ARMY?
The only army
The American people have to fear
Is
AN ARMY OF UNEMPLOYED.
THAT MEANS HARD TIMES FOR ALL.
If you want one like we had from 1893 to 1895 vote for Bryan.
AND YOU'LL SURELY GET IT!

In 1896.
You were promised something by McKINLEY—
You were also promised something by BRYAN.
Only ONE was RIGHT then.
Only ONE CAN be right now!
If you want four more years like the last four then
VOTE FOR McKINLEY,
The man who was RIGHT in 1896.

A KANSAS EDITOR SAYS:

"I Use Peruna in My Home as a Family Doctor."

Mr. F. A. Dixon,
310 East Tenth Street, Kansas City, Mo.

Mr. F. A. Dixon, Editor Pythian Echo, says in a recent letter to Dr. Hartman: "Some two years ago I began using Peruna in my family as a family doctor, and I have been highly pleased with the result. My wife has used it for catarrh and experienced great relief. My little girl has been sick a number of times, and when we used your medicine it proved a success. I have used it myself several times and consider it a very valuable medicine. Speaking from personal observation, I consider it a good investment to keep it in my home, and believe every man who desires to relieve suffering, and at the same time save money, should investigate the real merits of your Peruna and other medicines."

In a later letter he says: "For about four years I have used Peruna in my home for myself, wife and two children, and I have saved many doctor bills. Many times a dose or two of Peruna taken in time will stop a sickness, which, if permitted to go for a day, would result in serious trouble. For grip it is splendid and can be used successfully with very young children as well as old people. I use it in my home as an all-around family doctor and when it has been given a fair trial, it has proved an excellent remedy."

State College Defeated.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 29.—The Duquesne 11 Saturday repeated the crushing defeat which it administered to State College last year. Saturday's game was decided by the score of 29 to 0 in favor of Duquesne, but had the latter been up against a tighter team the result would have been different. Two of Duquesne's scores were made on flukes which a stronger opponent would never have permitted.

Contrasting the game which State put up against the locals Saturday and that which Bucknell put up here last Saturday a week, the odds appear a little in favor of State, which really played the better game of the two against Duquesne. Next Saturday State and Bucknell will meet.

State was entirely outclassed. Duquesne's weight being heavier by twenty pounds a man. State did not get nearer to scoring than Duquesne's 15-yard line. Harris played a star part for State. The line up:

The Bear Likes Corn.

George H. Batschlet, of Queen's Run, has been annoyed by a bear entering his field at night and destroying a lot of corn. A few nights ago, Mr. Batschlet after shocking a lot, put the corn in bags, thinking that bruin would not come near the bags. The next morning Mr. Batschlet went into the field and learned that the bear had not only torn the bag open and ate a lot of it, but had attempted to carry a bagful away, as the bag was found some distance from where it was placed by the gentleman.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, Oct. 30th, 1900.

It is no longer a question of whether President McKinley will be elected nor of whether a republican majority of the House will be elected, but of how large McKinley and Roosevelt's majority in the electoral college will be, and of how large the republican majority in the House will be. Those who knew the political situation the most thoroughly will be the least surprised to see election day produce a regular republican landslide. Things look more like it every day.

Representative Loudenslager, of New Jersey, who is in charge of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee Headquarters in Washington, said of the outlook: "I am confident that the republicans will organize the next House and will gain at least 10 on their majority in the present House. My view in regard to the general political situation is that the democrats have given up all hope of carrying this election, and that Bryan's trip through the East is indicative of that. I do not say this because of information received from the republicans alone, but from democratic sources as well. The character of speeches being made by Mr. Bryan indicates this. He does not appeal to the intelligence of the American people in any of his utterances. The democrats are now merely making a bold bluff and endeavoring to hold themselves together as far as possible. Mr. Bryan's replies to the questions propounded to him are not of the frank and manly character that would command the respect and confidenee of the business men of the country or of the intelligent working man who hopes that his labor may not only benefit him for the present, but that by it he may take care of the rainy days of the future. Mr. Bryan has shown clearly and conclusively that he desires to evade the real issues of the campaign and is unwilling to meet them. The republican position is not a theoretical one. It is founded on the facts that are found in the record of the republican party made during the last four years. The party presents that record for the inspection of the intelligent American people and is confident that it will stand the most searching inquiry and investigation, and will meet the approval of those who have the interests of the country and themselves at heart. You can take all of New England, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and West Virginia and put them in the republican column. They will undoubtedly cast their electoral vote for McKinley. In my judgment, the Southern States will show a surprising loss of votes for the democratic cause; not, however, so great as to change any of their electoral votes, but it will be a forcible notice to the democratic party that a very large number of the intelligent business men of the South are now deeply interested in the progress and advancement of this great nation, and demand that the administration of its affairs shall be conducted upon sound business and financial principles."

Secretary Long left Washington Saturday for Colorado, where his daughters are now living. He will stop en route to make several speeches, but the whole trip will be on the fly as he expects to return to Massachusetts in time to cast his vote.

Hon. Henry E. Davis, a prominent democratic member of the Washington Bar, who is actively supporting McKinley and Rooseveit, gave the following condensed history of the curbing of trusts by republican legislation: "In 1890, the Sherman Anti-Trust Law was fathered and passed by a republican Congress, signed by a republican president and executed by a republican Attorney General. Then there was complaints made to the Attorney General that the sugar trust existed in violation of the new law. In 1892, a bill was filed in the name of the U. S. against the sugar trust in Pennsylvania. The Supreme Court in deciding the case said, in effect: "This gigantic affair is a grinding monopoly, but the Federal government cannot reach it, because that power is reserved to the state." A few years later, in the case against the trans-Missouri Traffic Association, the Supreme Court decided that the sugar trust decision was not applicable to a combination of commercial agencies doing business among the states, that the pending case interfered with state lines, and that trust was broken. Later came the case of the joint Traffic Association, composed of thirty-one lines, including the Pennsylvania, New York Central and such railways. The Attorney General dragged them before the Supreme Court, after a circuit court said the Sherman law would not reach the combination, and the Supreme Court ended the trust."

"Southern Chivalry" doesn't show up to any more advantage in the suit for breach of promise of marriage just entered in Washington, against Senator Sullivan of Miss., by Miss Leeton, of the same state, than it did in the notorious Pollard-Breckenridge case a few years ago. Miss Leeton alleges that she lived with Senator Sullivan as his wife in Washington and elsewhere for a time she says they lived in Alexandria, Va., as Mr. and Mrs. Sutton—but was sent to school and often introduced as his niece. Senator Sullivan, like Breckenridge, sets up blackmail as his defense.

DEATH'S CHILLY HAND.

Presiding Elder M. L. Smyser and J. Dunlop Shugert, Have Passed Away.

REV. MARTIN LUTHER SMYSER.

Nothing that has occurred in this community for some time past has caused such a shock as did the announcement of the sudden death of Rev. M. L. Smyser, of this place, Presiding Elder of the Altoona District of the Methodist Episcopal church. This sad event occurred on Monday morning at 4:00 o'clock at the home of a friend, Mr. Hoover, at Altoona, Pa.

Rev. Smyser left Saturday for Altoona to attend an Epworth League Rally and was apparently in his usual health. Sunday he complained of not feeling well but still he took part in the services of the day. After church he was taken very seriously ill and medical attendance was summoned. Mr. and Mrs. Hoover took turns sitting up with the sick man. Towards morning he fell into a sleep and at 4:00 o'clock he peacefully passed away.

Death was due to heart failure and is believed to have been brought on by overwork. He was secretary of the Methodist State Convention at Harrisburg last week and worked very hard to make it a success, and this, with other duties, led to the spell of heart trouble which caused his death.

The remains arrived in Bellefonte Monday evening at 8:30 from Altoona and were taken to his home on East Curtin street.

Short private services were held at the house at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon after which public Memorial services were held in the Presbyterian church at 2:30 o'clock in which a number of ministers participated. The body was taken to York, Pa., on the 6:40 train this morning and services will be held in the First Methodist church of that place this afternoon at 2:30. Interment at York.

Rev. Smyser died during the silent watches of Sunday night at the home of John S. Hoover, 1424 Seventh avenue, Altoona, at whose home he was a guest.

Rev. Smyser was born in York, Pa., March 12, 1841, of Lutheran parentage. Early in life he became a follower of Wm. Wesley and joined the Methodist church at York. In 1863 he entered the ministry, receiving his appointment from the East Baltimore conference, having served one year previously under the presiding elder. He has been connected with the Central Penna. conference since 1872, and had served at Bellefonte, Philipsburg, Bloomsburg, Berwick, Chambersburg and Bedford. From 1886 to 1888 he was presiding elder of the Danville district. After that he was associated with Rev. Dr. S. C. Swallow in joint superintendency of the conference book rooms at Harrisburg. In 1895-96-97, he was pastor at Lewistown, in 1898 at the Mulberry street church, Williamsport, and in 1899 at the First church, Shamokin. At the annual conference last March he was appointed presiding elder of the Altoona district and has since resided at Bellefonte.

Shortly after entering the ministry he was united in marriage with the daughter of Wm. Hoffman, a successful paper manufacturer, residing at Hoffman's Mills, Md. Three children were born to this union, who, with his wife survive him.

His children are Wm. E. Smyser, professor of languages in the Wesleyan University at Delaware, Ohio, and Jennie and Grace at home.

He was pastor of the Bellefonte Methodist church from 1872 to 1875.

Rev. Smyser held a high rank among the ministers of the Central Penna. conference of the Methodist church. He was a very pious, godly man and as a revivalist his success was remarkable. He was a very excellent, thoughtful and expressive sermonizer and was possessed of executive ability of a high order. He was an able financier and possessed in a large degree, the ability to go into the details of an undertaking so that it was said of him that he always left his charges in good financial condition.

It was during his pastorate at Lewistown and Curwensville that the initiative steps were taken leading to the erection of the large church edifices in those places. He was a man of indomitable energy, which, with his noble and generous nature, his abilities as a student and preacher and rare executive power made him a leader in his denomination.

The successor to Rev. Smyser will be appointed by the bishop's meeting in Trenton, N. J., which convenes tomorrow. The name will probably be selected in a few days.

JOHN DUNLOP SHUGERT.

Bellefonte is called upon once again to mourn the loss of one of its foremost citizens and a member of one of its oldest families, John Dunlop Shugert, Esq., who died at his home on West Linn street Friday morning at 8:00 o'clock. While his death came as a great shock to the community yet it was not unexpected at this time, for he had been in failing health for over a year and had been confined to his home since the latter part of last April. Death was due to a general breaking down of the system.

John Dunlop Shugert was born in Bellefonte, June 26, 1837, and was the eldest son of Samuel T. and Deborah M. (Dunlop) Shugert, and was a direct descendant on his mother's side of John Dunlop, one of the founders of Bellefonte. His grandfather, Joseph B. Shugert, and his father, S. T. Shugert, were identified with the early business history of the county.

Deceased was educated in the schools of Bellefonte and at the early age of fifteen received an appointment as clerk in the prothonotary's office of Centre County under John T. Hoover, and soon after commenced reading law in the office of Samuel Linn, and February 2, 1860, was admitted to the bar. He immediately opened an office in Bellefonte and for two years devoted himself energetically to the practice of law. He later served two terms as deputy treasurer of the county and in 1866 was himself elected to that office by the Democratic party. His administration was exceedingly satisfactory, and the records of the office furnish ample evidence of his ability as an accountant, and of his thorough system of business in the most important office of the county, its transactions so seriously affecting land titles within the county.

On the 6th of January 1868, when the Centre County Banking Co., was organized Mr. Shugert was elected cashier, and filled that position with signal ability up to the time of his death.

Mr. Shugert was one of the town and county's most progressive men, and to him is due much of the county's development along industrial lines. All the railroad enterprises tending to benefit the county received his earnest support, and to him we are mainly indebted for a thorough geological survey of the county, which has done so much to attract the attention of capital to the iron and coal deposits within our boarders.

He was married Dec. 23, 1869, to Mary S., daughter of the late Dr. John M. McCoy. She passed away September 29, 1883, The following children survive: John M., Frank M., Jean, wife of David T. Kelly, and Katherine, all of Bellefonte.

One brother William Findley Shugert, of Washington, D. C., and one sister Mrs. Wm. E. Burchfield, of Philipsburg, also survive.

The funeral took place Monday morning at half past ten from his late residence on West Linn street.

The deceased had a large circle of friends and acquaintances and the attendance was naturally quite large.

The services were conducted by Rev. Wm. Laurie, D. D. LL. D., pastor of the Presbyterian church, who delivered a touching sermon in which he called attention to the manifest good qualities of the departed one.

The pall bearers were Hon. Austin O. Forst, Judge Jno. G. Love, Dr. A. M. Hibler, J. L. Kurtz, Chas. F. Cook, J. P. Harris, Dr. Geo. F. Harris, Wm. P. Humes, John M. Dale, J. Howard Lingle, Col. James P. Coburn and Lyman T. Eddy.

Interment took place in the Union cemetery.

Driver Killed at Munson.

On Wednesday last William Scott, a young miner, aged 22 years, met with a shocking and instant death. The young man has been in the employ of Fishburns at Munson since childhood in one capacity or other, and on Monday of last week began driving in their mine. The day of the accident he had been hindered a little in his work by waiting for cars, and on his last fatal trip was anxious to make up lost time. His cars got a little the start of him and in his effort to control them upset, crushing Scott between the roof and the cars. A fellow driver was near by and hurried to his comrade's side, but life was gone instantly. The body was taken out by the mine employes and borne to the Scott home when the grief at the fate of this eldest son was distressing. The mother was at Snow Shoe on a visit and was on her way to the train when the fatal news reached and almost crazed her. The young man was the eldest son of William Scott, a miner, and was a general favorite with all who knew him. The funeral took place Friday afternoon.

A Wheelman and a Catamount.

While R. J. Clark, of Rauchtown, was riding through Nippenose Valley on his wheel Sunday night, he was startled by the cry of a catamount. Immediately thereafter the animal leaped into the road directly in the wheelman's path. Clark put his whole strength into the pedals and drove straight for the crouching animal. He caught it squarely in the middle of the back and passed over it, but was thrown from the wheel and went sprawling on his face. The animal was evidently frightened as much as Clark, for it plunged into the waters of Lochabar creek and disappeared.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

Held in Honor of Rev. Martin L. Smyser In the Presbyterian Church - Remains Taken to York for Interment.

Beautiful and impressive services were held in the Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in honor of the memory of Presiding Elder M. L. Smyser, who for thirty-seven years as a Methodist minister had labored in the Masters Vineyard and who finished his life work at Altoona last Sabbath night.

Previous to the services at the church there were private services at his residence on Curtin street in which Rev. Wilcox, of Altoona and Dr. Evans, of Danville participated.

About forty ministers from different parts of the state were in attendance and after the house service they marched in a body to the church. The services at the church were most solemn and affecting. Rev. W. P. Shriner, presided over the services as he is pastor of the local church at which Rev. Smyser and family attended and also because this was the first church Rev. Smyser was pastor of after entering this conference. Mrs. J. Malcolm Laurie presided at the organ and a quartette composed as follows: Miss Lillie Coyle Hench, of Harrisburg; Mrs. Frank H. Crosthwhite of State College, and Messrs. Eugene Wentzel and Hardman P. Harris rendered the singing.

Rev. M. K. Foster announced the hymn 528, "Thy Will be Done" and Dr. William Laurie read the 90th Psalm followed by the reading of the 15th chapter of Corinthians by Dr. D. S. Monroe, of Shamokin.

Rev. Shriner then expressed the thanks of the bereaved family for the many kindnesses shown them by the people of Bellefonte. For himself he thanked the other pastors of the town for the assistance they had given him in ministering to this bereaved family and to Dr. Laurie and his congregation for the use of the Presbyterian church to hold the Memorial services in. He then introduced Rev. Dr. Pyle C. Pardoe, of Renova, an eloquent speaker who touched all hearts by his words. Space will only permit the publication of a few of the kind thoughts expressed. Dr. Pardoe said:

"When a Methodist minister dies it touches a chord of sympathy in a thousand different pastor's homes. Who would have thought a week ago when we listened to our brother at Harrisburg that so soon he would be gone. The grave is not the cul-de-sac. There is something in the immortality of good deeds. The pilgrim is facing towards the Jerusalem above. He is a soldier in the army of the Lord. There is something sweet in the ending of the life of a minister of the Gospel. It is the ending of a task well done and the going to receive the reward. We can remember the good deeds of our departed brother for they were many. Our brother was broad in his ideas, sweet and sympathetic. I see many before me who were brought into the fold by his efforts.

Dr. E. J. Gray of the Dickinson Seminary, Williamsport, was the next speaker. He said among other things: I had a feeling of disappointment as I listened to the choir singing "Thy Will be Done." We all have a feeling of disappointment at the death of Brother Smyser. I am glad he lived through last week. He devised, planned carried out the State convention at Harrisburg. He took great pleasure in it. After all it seems to me he ought to have lived longer. I was intimately acquainted with him. He was a director of Dickinson Seminary and an active one. Then the thought comes to me is God disappointed? Have all his plans for Brother Smyser been carried out? I do not think God is disappointed. I know of no one who was better prepared to go than he. He had lived nearly 60 years. No matter how much longer he had lived he could not have been more successful. He leaves behind him a record without a stain, pure and clean. Sad as we may feel we can still feel that he is not dead, in the proper sense of the word, but will live on forever. So that after all there is a bright side to it. His work on earth was finished and on last Sunday night at Altoona he lay down to sleep and awoke in the presence of the great Lord. You could trust him to the ends of the earth. He was without guile, kind gentle and sweet. A man who impressed other men as a man of power.

Rev. M. M. Steven, presiding elder of the Juniata district was next introduced. He said: Have known Brother Smyser for years. Preached in a charge where he had been previously located for four years. Found his good works in evidence everywhere. He founded an Epworth League at that place and they have never forgotten him. I lived in a beautiful parsonage he was instrumental in building. He put $500 of his own money in it.

Rev. Stevens then spoke in glowing terms of the work of Rev. Smyser as the treasurer of the Board of Education. He had a large mind and a large heart.

Rev. Dr. J. H. Black, presiding elder of the Williamsport District said that anyone who knew Brother Smyser knew his life was an ideal one. He never failed in any work that was set for him to do. His was a broad mind and I esteemed it a great privilege to know him. He always did the very best possible and the most that could be done and what more ideal death could be had, than to fall asleep in the arms of Jesus. His friends can remember him as he was in the vigor of life. Is it not better thus than that loved ones should have seen him suffer and fade away.

Dr. W. W. Evans, presiding elder of the Danville District and a close friend of the deceased was the last speaker. We quote from his remarks as follows: Death is a sad thing as is well know to all of us who have lost loved ones. The scar may heal over but it leaves a mark. I have known Brother Smyser longer than any here. For nearly forty years we have walked side by side. I knew his work in Philipsburg, Bloomsburg, Berwick, Chambersburg, Danville and Shamokin and all the good things these brethren have said about him are true and they could have said more. He goes into eternity with a soul culture and a character that has symmetry, maturity and beauty. This is a school of discipline and we want to get out of this life the character that will fit us for the life above. Brother Smyser had this. He was a faithful pastor. An old brother aged 93 who lives near Danville told me that of all the pastors in the Central Pennsylvania Conference he would sooner have Brother Smyser come to call on him. We can rest satisfied that he is in Paradise. Oh letius consecrate ourselves more fully to the work of saving souls and follow in the footsteps of this God fearing man.

The quartette then sang very sweetly, "In the hour of trial" after which the audience was dismissed with the benediction by Rev. G. H. Wharton of Milesburg.

THANKSGIVING DAY SET.

President McKinley Fixes November 29 for Its Observance.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The State Department Monday issued the following: By the President of the United States of America.

A PROCLAMATION.

It has pleased Almighty God to bring our nation in safety and honor through another year. The works of religion and charity have everywhere been manifest. Our country through all its extent has been blessed with abundant harvests. Labor and the great industries of the people have prospered beyond all precedent. Our commerce has spread all over the world. Our power and influence in the cause of freedom and enlightenment have extended over distant seas and lands.

The lives of our official representatives and many of our people in China have been marvelously preserved. We have been generally exempt from pestilence and other great calamities, and even the tragic visitation which overwhelmed the city of Galveston made evident the sentiments of sympathy and Christian charity by virtue of which we are one united people.

Now, therefore, I, William McKinley, President of the United States, do hereby appoint and set apart Thursday, 29th, of November next, to be observed by all the people of the United States, at home or abroad, as a day of thanksgiving and praise to Him who holds the nations in the hollow of His hand,

I recommend that they gather in their several places of worship and devoutly give Him thanks for the prosperity wherewith he has endowed us, for seed-time and harvest, for the valor, devotion and humanity of our armies and navies and for all His benefits to us as individuals and as a nation, and that they humbly pray for the continuance of His divine favor, for concord and amity with other nations, and for righteousness and peace in all our ways.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this 29th day of October in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-fifth.

(Seal)

THE AKOUND OF SWAT

HE CALLED FOR THE MOON, BUT IT DID NOT COME DOWN.

An Experiment Which Opened His Eyes to the Difference Between the Theory and the Practice of Things and Incidentally Shortened His Grand Secretary.

[Copyright, 1900, by C. B. Lewis.]

One day, as the akound of Swat had returned from a trip around town, during which thousands of his subjects had knelt to do him homage, he called for his grand secretary and said:

"Remshen, I'm a good deal of a feller, ain't I?"

"You are, O heaven born!" was the reply.

"Would you call me the biggest thing on earth?"

"Truly, but you are!"

"While I'm around on this earth there can be no other boss, eh, Remshen?"

"All other things are but a fly on a bull wheel compared to your extra highness."

"But how about the heavens, Remshen?" continued the akound after chuckling his satisfaction. "I am satisfied that I boss the earth, even to the mountains and rivers thereof, but I'm not exactly clear as to the sun, moon and stars. Don't they come under my rule as well?"

"Dost not remember, O mighty ruler, that your title is Akound the Mighty, boss of the earth and owner of all the planets above? Your humble slave assures you that the sun, moon and every star will hustle to do your bidding."

CRIED OUT FOR THE MOON TO TAKE A DROP.

"Thanks, Remshen. I must be a daisy for sure. Not being clear on the subject, I haven't given much attention to celestial matters, but now I think I'll give them a whirl. If a feller is going to be boss at all, he might as well be a boss on wheels."

"That is true, O akound, and when you get ready to command the moon to come off her perch I will issue proclamation and gather the people."

Old Remshen was a fawning sycophant on skates. He had a good thing and wanted to keep it. He had said the same fulsome words to his master a hundred times over, but nothing had come of it except to make his position more solid. A day or two after the above conversation and while he was going around the palace with a molasses grin on his face the bell jingled, and he was called into the presence of his master.

"By the way, Remshen, do you remember our little conversation the other day?" queried the akound.

"Can a slave forget his master's words?" asked Remshen as he lifted his hands in protest.

"I've been thinking. I'm a heap of a feller, and you know it, and I know it, but there may be a man or two on the outside who differs with us. I want to do something big to knock 'em all out."

"Will it please thee to behead a thousand men?"

"Well, yes, it would, but as it is just about tax time we'd better leave their heads on their shoulders until they have paid in the sugar. I think I'll go for the moon, Remshen. She'll be full tonight, and I'll order her to come down to earth."

"But, O ruler, she might be damaged in the fall," protested Remshen, beginning to quake with fear.

"I'll look out for that. We'll spread a feather bed for her to light on. Just issue a proclamation for the people to gather on the east side of my palace at 10 o'clock tonight."

"The moon, O ruler, is sometimes obstinate," suggested Remshen as he felt a pain. "She has even been known to disobey mighty potentates."

"But she'll tumble for me, or I'll know the reason why! Is it not in my title that I am owner of all the planets above? Get along, old boy, and issue that proclamation. When my subjects discover that I can wallop old Luna around at will, there'll be no more kicking about high taxes."

Old Remshen was boxed up and couldn't say another word. He went away and issued his proclamation and then beseeched the grave of his father, the bones of his mother and his lucky stars to send a dark night to knock the experiment on the head. He was looking bilious when night came and the old York state cheese arose in all her glory. Everybody in town was out, and the odds were five to one that the akound would win. At the hour named he appeared on the steps of his palace and lifted his hands and cried out for the moon to take a drop. It was a dead failure. He cried out again and again, but the moon continued her gait.

"Remshen," said the boss of earth when he realized that he was knocked out, "dismiss the populace and come with me."

The populace went away with their tongues in their cheeks, and when the akound had reached his library he said:

"How is this, Remshen? Why didn't the moon come down?"

"O ruler," replied the old sycophant as his heart tunked his ribs, "there is a difference between theory and fact."

"I see. Theoretically I am owner of the planets. Practically I am an ass. I ought to have got on to this, but being so busy it never occurred to me. Remshen, old boy, come out in the back yard with me."

"O mighty ruler, but what would you?"

"I'm going to give another illustration of theory versus fact. Theoretically you are my grand secretary and one of the most eminent men in the kingdom. As a matter of fact you are a head shorter, and your bones will go to enrich my gooseberry bushes!"

DOG AND PUPPY CRATES.

Made For the Convenient Transportation of These Animals.

The dog that is shipped by express is likely to travel in these days not only in safety, but also in comfort. There are various kinds of dog crates made especially for such use, some of them flat topped and some of those of later design gable topped and some oval topped, so that nothing can be placed on top of them. Dog crates are made in various sizes as well as styles, some with open, slatted sides and ends, some closed all around, except for the open spaces left for ventilation. Crates for bulldogs and dogs that gnaw are made with slats that, whether separated or set close together, are iron bound, so that the dogs can't set their teeth in the edges.

The dog crate is provided with a cup for water which is so constructed that the water can't spill out of it, and this cup is secured in the crate under the end of a pipe to which there is an opening in the top of the crate through which the dog can be kept supplied without opening the crate at all. Attached to the front of the crate is the dog's buffet, like a long canvas wallet or envelope, in which the dog's food is carried. The dog crate has at the ends handles by which it can be picked up and carried as a trunk would be.

Besides these various sizes and styles of dog crates there are also made in various sizes smaller, lighter crates for puppies, and crates of one sort and another of special sizes are made to order.

First and last there are sold a good many dog and puppy crates, and they are regular articles of stock where dog supplies are sold.—New York Sun.

THE BREAD WAS AN EXTRA.

An English Cafe Charge That Surprised an American.

"One of the strangest things about the management of English restaurants," remarked a gentleman who has recently returned from a visit to London to the writer, "is the custom of charging diners for every slice of bread which they eat. For instance, a day or two before my departure from the British capital I, as a mark of esteem, invited several English friends to dine with me at one of the most celebrated of the fashionable west end restaurants. Well, the repast was served in a private room, and everything went off splendidly until the coffee and cigar stage was reached and I asked that my bill be brought to me. There, to my utter astonishment, the head waiter, in the hearing of the assembled company, approached me and in a loud voice asked, 'And how many breads 'ave you 'ad, sir?'

"This question I could not answer, as I had not been engaged in counting the number of slices consumed, but one of my guests, who had evidently kept track of the bread, noticing my embarrassment, said in my behalf, 'Four plates.'

"'Ah,' muttered the waiter, 'that's 1 shillin hextra.' And after adding the amount to my bill he handed it to me for inspection.

"Of course I paid for the bread, but I have been wondering ever since I did so why the American custom of not charging for 'the staff of life' is not introduced over there."—Washington Star.

Ancient Origin of Military Salute.

When did the military salute come into use? It certainly dates from the earlier half of the fifteenth century, says the London Chronicle. In the "Speculum Humanæ Salvationis," which was issued before the invention of printing by movable types, there is an exceedingly quaint illustration in which Abraham is represented as saluting Melchisedec. The patriarch is in mediæval armor and apparently on guard, and it would seem that Melchisedec is bringing him refreshments of water, and the salute is distinctly the military one still in use.

Earth's Shadow.

The earth has a shadow, but few ever see it except in eclipse of the moon. Nevertheless many of us have noticed on fine, cloudless evenings in summer, shortly before sunset, a rosy or pink arc on the horizon opposite the sun, with a bluish gray segment under it. As the sun sinks the arc rises until it attains the zenith and even passes it. This is the shadow of the earth.

REMEMBRANCE.

In a lone bleak wood a wild rose grew,
No eye ever saw it, no mind ever knew,
But the flower was none the less as fair
As any that ever breathed the air.
It gazed up to the calm, cold sky
And shuddered to think it soon must die.

It languished, and its heart grew chill;
The caress of a zephyr might well nigh kill,
But a passing breeze gave encouragement
And bore afar its delicate scent;
The breeze thus laden kissed a child
Who played in the meadow and, pausing, smiled.

The dear enchantment of that spot
The child, through a lifetime, never forgot.
The soul of the rose, with its last sweet breath,
Leaped forth to meet approaching death,
And gave to the breeze every crimson flake;
'Twas all it had, for memory's sake.

No eye ever saw it, no mind ever guessed
The sweetness of its final rest.
How came I to know it? 'Twas told by the dew
How sweet is Remembrance, and I tell you.

WALK BLINDLY TO DEATH.

One of the Keenest Birds Is Often Deceived by His Visual Organ.

After trudging all day along the top of the mountain with no success at all, inasmuch as I had shot several times, but failed to bring down my game, I ran across an old hunter, J. W. Hyde. After the usual greeting we seated ourselves on an old log to exchange notes. I put the question:

"Why are the turkeys always on the run when I see them?"

The old man spit through his teeth, changed his position, laid his long, muzzle loading rifle on the ground, put the fourth portion of a plug of tobacco in his mouth and proceeded to tell me why the turkeys were always on the run when I saw them:

"Of all the game I have ever hunted turkeys display the most wonderful power of vision. I cannot tell just why this is. I have made a microscopical examination of the eyes of the hawk, eagle, fox, weasel and owl, but find no material difference in the lens and retina. The ciliary muscles and the iris are exactly the same, yet none of these keen visioned creatures can compare with the turkey in point of seeing. I remember the acuteness of sight displayed by one old gobbler. I had carefully concealed myself, and no part of my body was visible but the upper part of my head. A puff of wind slightly disturbed the brim of my hat. He saw it and immediately took to flight.

"On another occasion I was hunting in the mountains in Georgia. I was lying behind a log and was carefully hidden, all but the upper part of my face. A turkey was slowly coming in response to my call and was carefully noticing for signs of danger. A mosquito was stinging me fearfully on the forehead. I raised my finger slowly to crush it, and as soon as the finger came within range of vision cluck went the turkey, and he was gone.

"Now, the most inexplicable thing in regard to hunting turkeys is that, with all their acuteness of sight, the surest way to get a shot is to sit down in an open place with your back against a tree, in full view, and, strange to say, they will walk up within ten steps without seeing you."

Just then we noticed that the sun was down. The old hunter invited me to spend the night at his camp, which I did and had a most pleasant time.—Forest and Stream.

A Big Grasshopper.

A geographical expedition which set out for Australia from Boston on an exploring and mapmaking tour had engaged a negro cook, who took great interest in everything he saw. While the party was en route a kangaroo broke out of the grass and made for the horizon with prodigious leaps, an event that interested the colored gentleman from the Hub exceedingly.

"You all have pretty wide meadows hereabouts, I reckons," he said to the native who was guiding the party.

"Not any larger than those of other countries," returned the guide most politely.

"Well, there must be mighty powerful high grass roundabouts, heh?" he insisted.

"Not that I know of," replied the guide. "Why do you ask such odd questions?"

"Why, I'll tell you, boss. I was thinkin of the mighty uncommon magnitude of them grasshoppers."—Kansas City Independent.

Knocks Their Shoes Off.

Strange as it may seem, people killed in a railroad wreck are generally bereft of their shoes by the shock. In commenting on this peculiarity an old railroad engineer said: "A man who is killed in a railroad accident seldom dies with his boots on. I don't know why this should be, but it is a fact. It is particularly true in the case of a man who is struck by an engine and killed. In nine cases out of ten, when the body is picked up, it will be found minus shoes. Even men wearing heavy top boots are not exempt from this strange rule. Why is it? I guess you'll have to ask somebody who is wiser than I am."—Philadelphia Record.

Try It.

One can hear better with the mouth open than shut, a fact which may be verified by stopping the ears while passing through a railway tunnel and alternately opening and shutting one's mouth. The increase in the volume of sound while the mouth is open must be experienced to be appreciated.

SAVED HIS POSITION.

QUICK WIT LANDED HIM SAFELY OUT OF A TIGHT PLACE.

How a Clerk Worked Up an Excuse That Was Gladly Accepted by His Employer, to Whom He Had Shown Gross Incivility.

"It's mighty hard for a clerk to be suave and polite all the time," said a department manager in one of the big stores. "A clerk is like any other human being, subject to headaches and indigestion and fits of irritability, and occasionally he will be a little gruff without intending it. When I was younger, a few thoughtless words once came near losing me a good job, and the way I escaped being fired was rather amusing. It happened like this:

"I had charge of the men's furnishings counter in a large clothing store, and the pay being first rate and chance of promotion excellent I was naturally anxious to hold on to the job. One morning, however, I was feeling all out of sorts and was just developing an ugly headache, when a man came in and asked to see some cravats.

"I could tell from his general appearance he was from the north, and he had a curt, semisupercilious manner that irritated me immediately. If I had been feeling well, I would have kept my temper, but my head was throbbing, and when he pawed over the stock, finding fault with everything and sneering at my statements as to quality I began to get crusty.

"Finally I couldn't stand it any longer. 'If you really want a scarf,' I said, 'you'll find plenty here that, I dare say, are as good as anything you've been accustomed to wear.' Just then I happened to look up and caught sight of a floorwalker standing in a rear aisle and making frantic gestures to me with his hands.

"'If you'll wait a moment,' I said to the customer, wondering what the dickens was up, 'I'll see if I can find something else at the other side.' With that I hurried over to where the floorwalker was standing. 'What's the matter?' I asked in a low tone.

"'Great Scott, man,' he whispered, 'that's the boss!'

"The store, as I should have explained, was the southern branch of a New York establishment, and during the time I had been there the head of the firm had never before paid it a visit in person. Consequently I didn't know him by sight, and my blood ran cold when I realized how hopelessly I had rammed my foot into it. During the next five seconds I did some quick thinking, and among other things that came crowding into my mind was the fact that the boss had been married only a short time before. That gave me an idea.

"'I'm going back,' I whispered to the floorwalker, 'and in a minute or two you send one of the boys to me with a piece of folded letter paper.'

"'What are you up to?' he asked.

"'Never mind,' said I. 'You do exactly as I say. Let him just hand me the paper and walk off. I hurried back to the counter and found my man looking black as thunder. 'Sorry,' I said, still as gruff as ever, 'but that's all we have. If nothing in it suits you, you'll have to go elsewhere.'

"'Very well,' he replied sarcastically, 'and now let me give you a small piece of information. I'—

"At that moment a boy handed me the paper. I tore it open, pretended to read a note, slapped my leg joyfully and proceeded to do a double shuffle on the floor. The stranger glared at me in amazement. 'What the deuce is the matter with you?' he growled. 'Are you crazy or just drunk?'

"'Neither!' I cried. 'I am simply relieved, inexpressively relieved and rejoiced! You must pardon this idiotic exhibition, my dear sir,' I went on earnestly, 'and I hope you will also pardon my gross rudeness to you a moment ago. I was beside myself with anxiety and didn't know what I was doing. The fact is,' I said, with the best imitation of diffidence I could muster up, 'the fact is, we have just had a new arrival out at my house. It's a boy, sir, and everything's all right. And really I hope you will overlook'—

"'Don't say a word,' he interrupted, cordially grasping by hand. 'I appreciate your feelings, and your apology is ample. Here's my card.'

"So that was the way I got out of it," added the department manager, grinning, "but it was a close shave, especially in view of the fact that I was and am a case hardened old bachelor, with a special aversion to infants. The boss was very kind and cordial, and whenever he came to town afterward he never failed to ask how the younster was getting on. He doesn't know any better to this day."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Boston's Slave Market.

In the old colonial days Boston had an "intelligence office," which was also a slave market, as appears from a notice published in February, 1770: "The intelligence office opposite the Golden Ball, lately kept by Benjamin Leigh, is now kept by Grant Webster. There is to be sold at said office West India and New England rum, wines of several sorts, male and female negroes, several secondhand chairs," etc.—New York Tribune.

Too Long to Wait.

"I disown you!" cried the angry parent. "I shall cut you off with a shilling!"

"Yes, sir," replied the erring son. "And might I have the shilling now?"—Stray Stories.

From the root of the pretty flower known as white bryony can be made a decoction which acts with magical effect in curing bruises of all descriptions. It is said to be peculiarly efficacious in healing a blackened eye.

The Pink Carnation.

Political leanings aside, we believe that every carnation grower in America will welcome the selection of the divine flower as one of the great party emblems during the election campaign this year—the first time that a flower has been chosen as such in the history of national politics. The carnation is President McKinley's favorite blossom and that is the reason why the Republican party has selected that flower as its emblem. It is recorded that when Mr. McKinley first entered Congress his mother, on his leaving home, gave him a pink carnation. She had read, says a writer, years before that "those who succeed in cultivating perfect carnations understand the true science of flowers. Happy is the florists or owner of a garden who can boast that he can raise six perfect blooms of these beautiful blossoms." So interested did she become from these sentences that she devoted years of her life to raising carnations, and on the morning her son entered Congress for the first time he wore his mother's gift on his black coat—a perfect carnation flower.

In order to still further create interest in this feature of the campaign, the wholesale florists and growers in New York and vicinity have agreed to furnish carnations for the New York Wholesale Dry Goods Club, to be worn in the business men's parade in New York, on November 3.

It is estimated that 50,000 carnation blooms will be forthcoming as the result of donation.—Florists' Exchange.

to baby's health must be taken before baby's birth. The child can have no more health than the mother gives it. A healthy mother, strong of body and cheerful of mind, will endow the child with her own physical health and cheerful disposition. Many a wife who had dreaded motherhood because of past experiences of prenatal misery of mind and body has found a new era open to her with the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives physical strength, soothes the nerves, and induces refreshing sleep. It gives vigor and elasticity to the organs of maternity, so that the birth hour is practically without pain or suffering. It enables the mother to provide a plentiful supply of healthful nourishment for the healthy child. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription" and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free of charge. All correspondence strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I gladly recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. J. W. G. Stephens, Mila, Northumberland Co., Virginia. "Before my third little boy was born I took six bottles. He is the finest child and has been from birth, and I suffered very much less than I did before in confinement. I unhesitatingly advise expectant mothers to use the 'Favorite Prescription.'"

A Buckle in Her Lung.

Early in the year 1896, Mrs. Smith, then Miss McHenry, of Hughesville, placed a small metal snap off a suspender between her lips, and having occasion to laugh the piece of metal slipped down her throat and lodged in her windpipe, as she believed. Several physicians were consulted, but none of them were willing to believe as the young lady did, they claiming that the metal had passed down her throat and would do her no harm. The young woman adhered to her theory, and, as a substantiation of her assertion, a soreness in a short time developed in her right lung the symptoms of tuberculosis made their appearance. Matters continued practically the same until a few days ago, when during a severe spell of coughing, the lady spat out what is supposed to be the piece of metal swallowed years ago. It had become oxydized, resembling a piece of charcoal.

BETTING on the election doesn't constitute an argument, but at the same time it indicates the direction of the political wind. Odds on McKinley are 6 to 1 in New York.

THE announcement that the ice trust had declared a quarterly dividend may partially explain where Boss Croker got so much money to bet with.

ON GUARD

The warning cough is the faithful sentinel. It tells of the approach of consumption, which has killed more people than war and pestilence combined. It tells of painful chests, sore lungs, weak throats, bronchitis, and pneumonia. Do not suffer another day. It's useless, for there's a prompt and safe cure. It is which cures fresh colds and coughs in a single night and masters chronic coughs and bronchitis in a short time. Consumption is surely and certainly prevented, and cured, too, if taken in time.

A 25c. bottle for a fresh cold; 50c. size for older colds; $1 size for chronic coughs and consumption.

"I always keep a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral on hand. Then every time I get cold I take a little of it and I am better at once."

An October Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Minnie T. Brew, only daughter of the late S. Austin Brew, and Mr. Harry Esling Fenlon, two of our well known young people, was celebrated Wednesday evening at Brew Mawr, the beautiful country place of George T. Brew, the brides' brother, at Oakland, Md.

The ceremony was solemnized at six o'clock by the Rev. Father Richmond, of Jersey City, an old friend of the bride's family, in the presence of quite a number of relatives and guests, who journeyed thither for that purpose. The bride was dressed in pink silk, trimmed with chiffon and real lace. She carried a boquet of lillies of the valley and was attended by her niece, Miss Lucetta Brew, of this place, as maid of honor. Little Miss Fenlon the groom's niece was flower girl and his brother, Philip Fenlon, of Philadelphia, was best man. A supper was served and after the ceremony and congratulations Mr. and Mrs. Fenlon left that evening for a two weeks' journey through the South.

Upon their return they will make their home at the Bush house, the management of which Mr. Fenlon has been connected with for many years. He is one of the most genial and truly popular men of the town and for him and his bride only the kindest wishes have been expressed.—Democratic Watchman.

Farmers Institute in Centre County.

Secretary of Agriculture John Hamilton has given out the dates of the various County Farmer's Institutes to be held during the coming winter, and Centre Hall and Port Matilda are the places selected in Centre county for holding the same. The dates fixed are January 9th and 10th, at Port Matilda and January 11th and 12th at Centre Hall.

These institutes are very instructive to the farming class, and great interest is manifested in them as a rule wherever held.

Bicycle Tax Unconstitutional.

Oil City, October 27.—Judge Criswell, of Venango county, has just handed down an opinion in a case having for its purpose the testing of the constitutionality of the collection of a bicycle tax. He decides the tax illegal, coinciding with the views of Judge Simonton, of Dauphin county, who held that the law was in violation of that portion of the Constitution which prohibits delegating to any special commission power to supervise or interfere with any municipal improvement.

Lock Haven Capital.

The West Coal and Mining Company of Lock Haven has been granted a charter at the State Department.

The company will open their office in Lock Haven. It has control of a body of coal land, lying east of Snow Shoe, which contains about 1300 acres. Beneath the surface are two veins of coal, each about six feet thick, the coal of which is said to be the finest in this section of the State. The land has been developed and operations will be commenced at once.

103lb Pumpkin.

Prof. D. M. Wolf, D. D., of Spring Mills, no doubt is the champion pumpkin raiser in Centre county. His largest fruit weighed just one hundred and three pounds, and no one will dispute the weight. Dr. Wolf is anything but an idler. Most of his time is devoted to teaching, but many hours during the year find him doing manual labor, all of which he enjoys.

—The fact that the powers have united to preserve the open door in China is directly ascribable to Secretary Hay's diplomacy. It was he who led the way and showed its advantages, and Europe reversed her policy and followed his lead. Thus progress and development follows in the wake of the policies of the Republican party.

—Sarah Catharine, a little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cooke Kreamer, of Milesburg, aged about three years, died Saturday morning at her parents' home in that place of diphtheria.

—Harry Lucas of Snow Shoe, has succeeded George C. Snyder as agent and operator at the Bald Eagle station at Mill Hall. Mr. Snyder who has been the agent at Mill Hall for the past 11 years, goes to Beech Creek.

"WE Want a President Like Lincoln" is the title of a Democratic campaign song. A Democratic glee club would have been mobbed had it dared to warble such sentiments in the '60's.

IF a calamity candidate on a calamity platform could not be elected in a calamity year, how can be reasonably expect to have better success in a prosperity year? give it up.

THE BIG STRIKE IS OFF!

President Mitchell Issued a Statement to that Effect Thursday Night.

MEN RETURNED TO WORK MONDAY

The Men Have Been On a Strike for Thirty-nine Days—Strike Called Off on All Companies that Have Agreed to the 10 per cent Advance and Abolish Sliding Scale.

GENERAL SATISFACTION EXPRESS

HAZLETON, Pa., October 26.—The following statement was given out for publication last night by President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers:

"Temporary Headquarters, United Mine Workers of America, Hazleton, Pa., October 25, 1900.—To the Miners and Mine Workers of the Anthracite Region—Gentlemen: After carefully canvassing the entire strike situation, we, your officers, district and national, have concluded that your victory is so nearly complete that no good end can be served by continuing the strike longer. The contest has been in progress for thirty nine days and the companies employing you have, with few exceptions, signified their willingness to pay the scale of wages formulated by the Scranton convention of October 12 and 13.

"We are aware that some disappointment and dissatisfaction have been caused by the failure of the operators in district No. 7 to separate the reduction in price of powder from the advance in wages, but after careful inquiry we are satisfied that each mine employe will actually receive an advance of 10 per cent. on the wages formerly paid. In the Schuylkill and Lehigh regions the largest companies have agreed that the sliding scale should be suspended and that wages should remain stationary at 10 per cent. until April 1, 1901, thus removing one of the iniquities of which you have complained for years.

"While it is true that you have not secured redress for all your wrongs; while it is true that the increase in your earnings will not fully compensate you for the arduous labor you are compelled to perform in the mines, you have established a powerful organization, which, if maintained and conducted on business principles, will enable you to regulate many of your local grievances and make your employment less hazardous and more profitable than before the strike began.

"The companies agree, in their notices, to take up with their mine employes al grievances complained of. We would therefore advise that committees be selected by the mine employes, and that they wait upon the superintendents of the companies and present their grievances in an orderly, businesslike manner and ask that they be corrected.

"Your attention is respectfully called to the fact that the laws of the state of Pennsylvania provide that miners should be paid semi-monthly, upon demand; we should therefore advise that each mine employe serve notice on the companies that he expects to be paid his wages twice each month, as provided by law.

"The practical benefits to the miners which accrue from thorough organization have been so clearly demonstrated during this strike that it should be needless for us to urge upon you the necessity of maintaining your union intact. We trust, however, that those who are now members of the union will be unceasing in their efforts to induce all other mine workers to allay themselves with the United Mine Workers of America at once, as it will be impossible for you to secure higher wages in the future, or even to maintan the present rate of wages, unless you are prepared to offer a united resistance if any attempt is made to reduce your earnings upon the expiration of the present offer.

Six Frightful Failures.

Six terrible failures of six different doctors nearly sent Wm. H. Mullen, of Lockland, O., to an early grave. All said he had fatal lung trouble and that he must soon die. But he was urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. After taking five bottles he was entirely cured. It is positively guaranteed to cure all diseases of throat, chest and lungs, including coughs, colds, la grippe, pneumonia, bronchitis, asthma, hay fever, croup, whooping cough. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottles free at F. Potts Green's drug store.

Twelve hundred delegates, representing a membership of 300,000 and church property valued at $18,000,000, were enrolled at the opening session of the Methodist Episcopal State convention at Harrisburg on Tuesday.

Famous Paintings of New England Life.

The December Ladies' Home Journal will publish the first of W. L. Taylor's great paintings picturing the olden days in New England. It portrays "The Traveling Shoemaker," passed and gone so long that he is but a memory. There are eight paintings in the series, which it is conceded stand for the very highest achievement in illustration. Mr. Taylor has spent two years on the work—a commission from the editor of the Journal.

The President a Slave to Catarrh.

D. T. Sample, president of Sample's Instalment Co., Washington, Pa., writes: 'For years I was afflicted with Chronic Catarrh. Remedies and treatment by specialists only gave me temporary relief until I was induced to use Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder. It gave almost instant relief. 50 cents.—25. F. P. Greens.

Anti-Election Notice to Workmen.

The Mann Edge Tool Co., at Lewistown has notified its employes that, should the results of the Presidential election so clog its business as to make it necessary to reduce either wages or working force, the reduction will take place as soon as the election is over, without the customary two weeks' notification. This is one of the largest axe and tool plants in the State, and it has enjoyed exceptional prosperity.

Editor Sees Wonders.

Editor W. V. Barry, of Lexington, Tenn., in exploring Mammoth Cave, contracted a severe case of piles. His quick cure through using Bucklen's Arnica Salve convinced him it is another world's wonder. Cures piles, injuries, inflammation, and all bodily eruptions. Only 25c at F. Potts Green's.

Frightened Into Committing Suicide.

LANCASTER, Pa., Oct. 26.—Milton Demmy, 18 years of age, of Mount Joy, died yesterday from the effects of paris green. He had bought a bicycle on installments and was back with his payments. The dealer threatened to bring suit and this scared the young man so badly that he determined to take his life. He went to a cornfield on Monday, and after taking the poison, hid himself in a corn shock. He did not take enough to cause immediate death and on Tuesday crawled to a stream to get a drink, and was too weak to again secrete himself. He was found a few hours later and taken to his home, where he died last night.

—Soon the small boy will be making his annual resolutions to be good—until after Christmas.

—The leaves rustle under one's feet in an ominously noisy manner, suggestive of the rapid approach of wintry blasts and coal bills.

—The apples offered for sale don't seem to justify the assertion that the crop is one of the finest and largest in the history of the state.

—Lock Haven and Bellefonte capitalists have organized the West Coal Mining company, and will operate 1,300 acres of land near Snow Shoe.

—Fire insurance of $50.000 has been placed on the wedding gifts of Mrs. Ross A. Hickok, nee Hastings, the daughter of ex-Governor Hastings.

—It is less than two months to Christmas. The merchants ought to be planting their advertisements if they wish to reap good crops of trade.

—Energy all gone? Headache? Stomach out of order? Simply a case of torpid liver. Burdock Blood Bitters will make a new man or woman of you.

—J. W. McCoy, the brakeman who had both legs broken in the wreck on the Beech Creek road Saturday morning died at his home in Jersey Shore that evening.

—Hundreds of lives saved every year by having Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in the house just when it is needed. Cures croup, heals burns, cuts, wounds of every sort.

—"Where is Cobb?" is bound to be one of the biggest hits of the season. If you will go and see it, you will be happy. Garman's opera house Monday evening Nov. 5.

—No matter how long you have had he cough; if it hasn't already developed into consumption, Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will cure it.

—A slight wreck occurred on the Central railroad of Pennsylvania at Mill Hall Wednesday afternoon. In making a "flying" switch two sections of a train collided. Several cars were derailed and two quite badly damaged.

—Treasurer James Harris acknowledges the following contributions to the Soldier's Monument fund received since his last report: Joseph H. Thomas, of Philadelphia, $10.00; Comrade Owen Jones, Philadelphia, $1.00.

—The "fifty-horse act," under direction of master Eddie Sipe, is one of the many features of the Sipe Educated Animals and Liliputian shows, which will be seen at Garman's opera house, Saturday, matinee, and night Nov. 3rd.

—The ladies of the Presbyterian church of Unionville will serve a chicken and waffle supper in the lower room of the church, Friday evening Nov. 2nd. Tickets 25cts. Proceeds for benefit of the church all are invited.

—A large red fox was seen the other night coming out of a chicken coop in the residence portion of Bellefonte with a hen in its mouth. Chickens had disappeared before, but it was not thought any four-legged animal was the thief. A fox hunt is among the probabilities for the future.

—The ladies of the Lutheran church are preparing a variety of very fine articles for the needle work bazaar they will hold in the W. C. T. U. rooms on the afternoon and evening of Nov. 8th and 9th. They will also serve ice cream and cake and oysters in every variety from 5 to 10 p. m. You are cordially invited.

—The Bellefonte Euchre Club was entertained Tuesday evening by Mrs. J. L. Spangler and Mrs. L. T. Munson at the residence of Mrs. Spangler on North Allegheny street. This meeting of the Club was to have been at the home of Mrs. M. A. Burnett but circumstances required the above change in the original arrangements.

—David Snyder, the Pennsylvania railroad fireman, who was killed at Howard a week ago Sunday, had a debt of $700 against his home in Tyrone, he having just completed a new addition to it. The railroad employees are doing a very graceful act by raising this sum of money to pay off this indebtedness and give the widow and children a home clear of incumbrance.

—The Academy foot ball team which is to play Altoona High school at the new Fair grounds next Saturday afternoon has been greatly strengthened by the addition of two new men who have just entered school. They are Warren Greenlee, of Butler and Sydney Smith, of Punxsutawney. They have both played on Academy teams before and are experts at the game. The boys on the hill are confident of winning this game with Altoona.

—Some persons that are cutting wood on our mountains here report that they are afraid to be in the woods on account of the careless shooting that is done by some of our hunters. Hunters should be very careful and not shoot until they see what they are shooting at. As an old hunter said on Saturday some of the young hunters now shoot when they see a bush shaking and are not fit to have a gun and be in the woods.

MISS HOLLIDAY'S WEDDING.

Arrangements About Completed for this Brilliant Nuptial Event.

Society is much interested in the approaching marriage of Miss Myra Holliday, step-daughter of Col. J. L. Spangler, to Dr. Albert Engles Blackburn, of Philadelphia, which as already announced in this paper takes place Wednesday evening, Nov. 7th at 7 o'clock in the Presbyterian church. The arrangements are fast nearing completion and every indication points to it being one of the most brilliant social events of the season.

Over eight hundred invitations have been issued to the church and reception. The church will be beautifully decorated for the occasion and the ceremony will be performed by Rev. William Laurie D. D. LL. D. The wedding march will be played by Mrs. J. Malcolm Laurie.

A Worthy Tribute of Respect.

The Academy paid a very worthy and fitting compliment to the memory of the lamented Mr. Shugert. When it closed its morning session in all the departments Monday in time to allow the faculty and the students to attend the funeral services. A cloud of sadness has hovered over the Academy ever since the sad announcement of Mr. Shugert's death was made, for all connected with that institution deeply appreciate the fact that in the demise of this highly esteemed citizen of the town and most zealous trustee of the Academy they have lost one of the best friends they ever had. In every movement during the past 20 years that pertained to the improvement of this school, Mr. Shugert was one of the leading and inspiring factors. Before his recent sickness laid fast hold upon him, he delighted to discuss with his other friends interested in the Academy the possibilities of an early realization of the new building that is so much needed at the present time. His memory will be perpetuated in the work accomplished by the Academy which has been made possible in great measure by the interests he always manifested in it. And it will be a grateful memory for all.

After Many Years.

The Williamsport Sun says a postal note that was sent from the Williamsport post office over 13 years ago, has returned to that city. It was made out by the late W. F. Logan, who was postmaster in 1887, and bears the date April 4, that year. At that time the postal notes were made payable to bearer, and no names were necessary to the note. This particular note is No. 012574, and is good for $1.70. Just who the money was for nobody knows. The note has been at the dead letter office many years, and may have been all over the country. It was returned to the local office to ascertain the name of the sender, but as this is impossible the note will be returned to the department at Washington.

—The game laws at first sight seem rather stiff and oppressive, but if they protect the game until it becomes plenty again the object of the farmers will have been accomplished. Every good citizen of the State, with that end in view, should obey the law, and thus do his best toward the preservation of the wild game.

—Ethel Robbins, of Beech Creek, accidentally pulled a kettle of hot water over her person. She was severely scalded on the chest, arms and back. She was taken to the Williamsport hospital. She is 6 years old.

A vote for Clearwater is a vote for continued prosperity.

STRUCK BY A TRAIN.

Another Accident at Howard Which May Cost the Life of Farmer Confer.

The staid old town of Howard has again come to the front with another railroad accident of a sensational character. Saturday morning about half past nine Jack Confer, a farmer living near Howard, was driving across the track just at the Howard station. He had a two-horse team, with a heavy farm wagon. He failed to hear an extra freight which was approaching at a rapid rate from the west and just as they were fairly on the track, the engine struck them between the horses and the wagon. The horses were thrown to one side landing in a ditch; Mr. Confer was knocked a distance of 25 or 30 feet landing on the ground to one side of the track, while the wagon was picked up and carried a short distance and finally ground to pieces beneath the wheels of the engine.

All this happened within sight of a score or more people, some of whom were waiting for the morning passenger train, just about due who were powerless to aid the unfortunate man. As soon as the accident happened they rushed to the scene expecting to find both horses and driver dead. Great was the surprise when the horses sprang up none the worse for their thrilling experience. Mr. Confer did not escape so easily. He was carried to the office of Dr. O. W. McEntire where it was found that one of his ribs was broken and he was badly bruised and cut about the head and body. While his injuries are very severe yet it is believed he will recover. He is about 45 years old and unmarried.

Cleveland's Emphatic Denial.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 30.—Ex-President Cleveland, being shown a publication in the Philadelphia Times of today, purporting to be an interview with him, said:

"The whole thing from beginning to end is an absolute lie, without the least foundation or a shadow of truth. I have never uttered a word to any human being that affords the least pretext for such a mendacious statement. I have already telegraphed the Philadelphia Times to this effect."

The utterances ascribed to ex-President Cleveland in the publication referred to, embodied an expression that there would be a "landslide for Mr. Bryan the morning after election."

Mr. Cleveland was quoted as naming certain elements working in favor of the democratic candidate and discussing Mr. Bryan as an orator and as an efficient campaigner.

A Former Lock Haven Lady's Romantic Marriage.

Mrs. Mary Beck, whose maiden name was May Hess, formerly of this city, and Major Jas. Huston Hepburn, son of M. P. Hepburn, of Jersey Shore, were married Thursday evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Richard S. Holmes, at the parsonage of the Shadyside Presbyterian church, East End Pittsburg, in the presence of near relatives.

Dr. Hepburn, who is a surgeon in the United States army, and was in the Philippines, is now stationed at Fort Bayard, New Mexico. Mr. and Mrs. Hepburn will come east and will attend the Hepburn Hepburn wedding at Jersey Shore next month, after which they will go to Fort Bayard.

There was a little romance attached to the wedding. Major Hepburn was an early suitor for his bride's hand when she was Miss Hess, but the course of their love affairs did not run smoothly, and she was shortly afterwards married to Dr. Beck, her late husband. After his death 5 years ago, Major Hepburn renewed his suit, with the result that the wedding occurred Thursday evening.—L. H. Democrat.

Held Up Operator.

Saturday morning about 2 o'clock six small masked men, uniformly dressed, broke into the station of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad at Danville, through a panel in the door. They all pointed their revolver at Annon Kiser, the operator, seized him, forced a gag into his mouth, tied his arms and legs, carried him into the adjoining room, and threw him on the floor.

The burglars then made nine attempts to blow open the safe without success. The tenth time the safe flew to pieces. The burglars secured upwards of $500 in cash. They then relieved Kiser of his watch and other valuables and left.

About an hour later Kiser succeeded in releasing himself and notified the authorities.

—Why doesn't Bryan answer the plain question asked of him by Gov. Roosevelt: "If elected, will you pay the obligations of the nation in gold or silver?" This is simple and straightforward, and deserves a frank answer. To refuse to give one, shows that Bryan realizes that his answer, however phrased, would lose him votes in one section of the country or in the other.

—A very pretty piece of fancy work is being displayed in Lewin's show window. It is the handiwork of Miss Carrie Bayard. The piece of work is for sale.

DON'T fail to vote and see that your neighbors vote. Get out the vote and help make every vote count for the straight Republican ticket.
